LIBERALS PLAN PROGRESSIVE FEDERAL STEPS

Say Changing Economic Conditions Will Be Met When They Take Office

National Federation Meets at Ottawa

Declarations of Policy Made By King Are Approved By the Delegates

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—The Liberal Party will supply measures adequate to meet the changing conditions and difficult questions of the time, and will ensure to the whole community the advantages and opportunities which the resources of this country provide, says the National Liberal Federation.

The federation delegates were either at home again today in Ontario and Quebec and the maritimes, or homeward bound to the farther parts of the Dominion, including British Columbia, after their annual meeting here at which they recorded approval of the platform outlined in declarations of policy made by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Dominion Liberal leader.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED
Opening Friday afternoon with delegates from every province of Canada in attendance, the meeting closed late Saturday, its business completed. Election of officers resulted in practically the same slate as last year. Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King is honorary president of the federation, and Hon. Vincent Massey continues as president. Vice-presidents are Hon. Clairmont Wilson, the only woman senator of Canada, and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, M.P. for Quebec. Earl and former Minister of Justice Norman Lambert was re-elected secretary.

A finance committee made up of Albert Matthews of Toronto, chairman, and Senator H. H. Horsey of Ontario, Hon. Vincent Massey, P. E. Cagnan, M.P. for Charlevoix-Saguenay, Que., and Mme. Grand de Rouen, was appointed.

Business and organization formed the chief matters under discussion during the two days of the meeting. The sessions were held in camera. Optimistic reports on the situation in the various provinces of the Dominion were given by delegates. Both Mr. King and Mr. Massey addressed the delegates.

EASTERN RHODES SCHOLAR
Saint John, Dec. 4.—George Norman Laidlaw, twenty-one, in his last year at Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B., has been chosen Rhodes scholar for New Brunswick for 1934. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Laidlaw of Halifax.

"RUNE STONE" IS LOSING PLACE

Winnipeg, Dec. 4.—Manitoba's mystery boulder, hailed for a time as a "rune rock" which might provide an authentic link with an unknown past in Canada's history, sank nearer oblivion today when its inscriptions were ascribed to weathering by Prof. J. A. Holvik of Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn.

Prof. Holvik traveled to Winnipeg from Moorhead in order to examine the stone. An expert in runology, the department of Norse staff at the college, he concluded, after a minute examination of the stone, there was no indication the markings it bore had been made by man.

Welfare Drive For Funds Is Launched

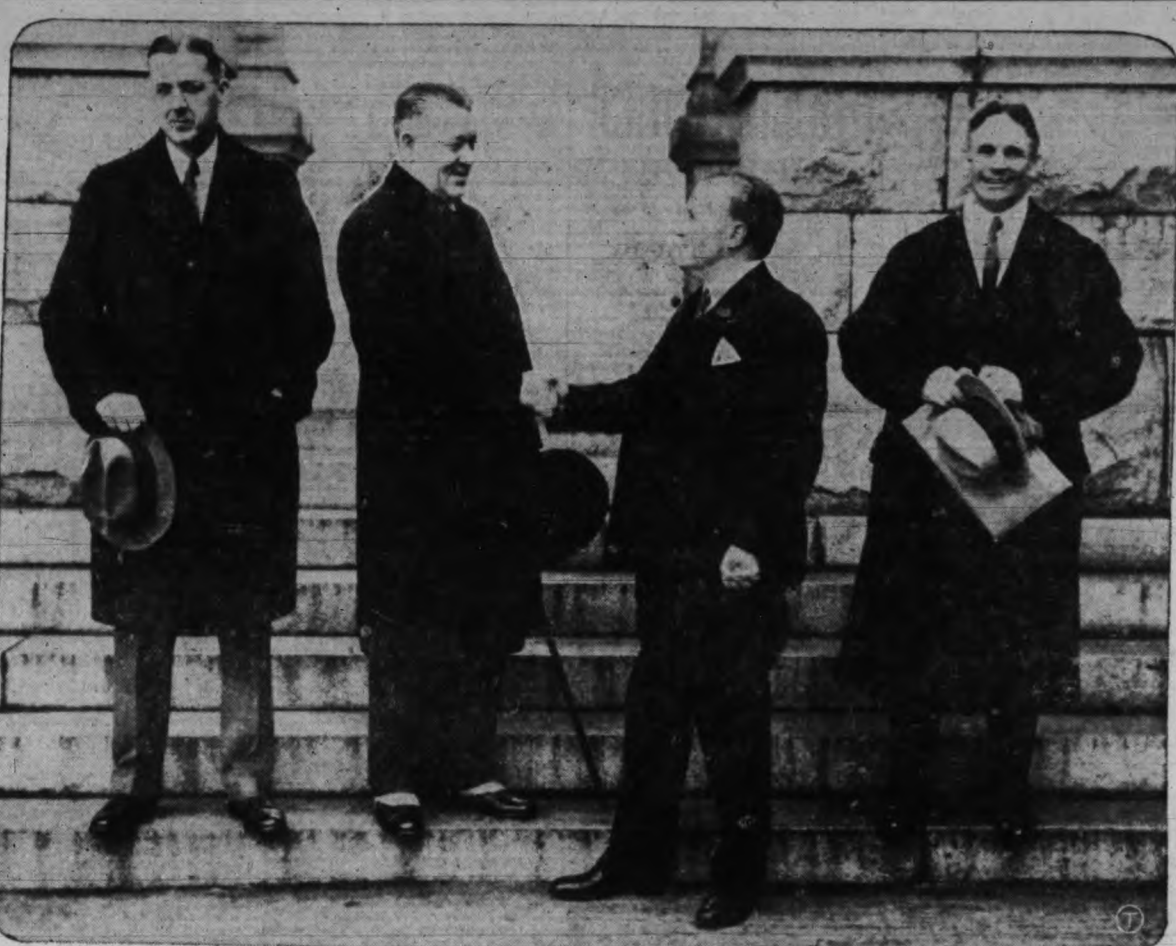

Greater Victoria Welfare Campaign Starts To-day in All Districts
Nearly 300 Canvassers Taking Part; Officials Endorsement

The Victoria and District Welfare Campaign, with an objective of $35,000 to finance the welfare organizations of Victoria, was launched in earnest today as nearly 300 canvassers set out to cover Greater Victoria with house to house visits to collect funds for the needy.

Preliminary returns from Saturday and this morning were gratifying. Alfred Carmichael, campaign manager, reported, in urging the wholehearted support of the public. There are forty-one teams, ranging from five to ten members, covering the area, and the drive will continue throughout the week.

Premier Pattullo Welcomes Other Western Premiers to Conference

Before they went into their conference at the Parliament Buildings this morning the four western premiers appeared before the camera and were in excellent spirits. In the above picture Premier Pattullo is shown shaking hands with Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan. At the extreme right is Premier John Bracken of Manitoba and at the extreme left Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta.

Statement To-morrow On Irish Link With Empire

THIEF KILLS RUGBY STAR
Toronto, Dec. 4.—The Ontario government added impetus today to the search for the man who killed Johnny Copp, announcing the province had posted a reward of $2,500 for information leading to arrest of the house burglar who shot and fatally wounded the twenty-two-year-old University of Toronto star football player during a hand-to-hand struggle last Thursday night.

While the City of Toronto, the university and eastern football circles in which Copp was a leading figure prepared to pay tribute to the young medical student at his funeral, the total reward for capture of his killer amounted to $5,000. The city increased its reward from $1,000 to $2,500 and another $800 was put up by private citizens.

YOUNG COPP DIED YESTERDAY
Only one shot was fired by the thief. Rushed to a hospital, Copp made a great fight for life, doctors at one time believing the athlete's wonderful physical condition and great courage would carry him through.

CHICAGO BOASTS CRIME DECREASE
Chicago, Dec. 4.—State Attorney Thomas J. Courtney today pointed to a record of a month without a gang killing and asserted "Chicago is now free from crime than any large city."

FRANK BONE DIED TO-DAY
Native Son Succumbs at St. Joseph's Hospital After Lingering Illness
After a lingering illness of several years' duration, Frank Bone, well-known native son of Victoria, passed away at noon today in St. Joseph's Hospital, where he had been a patient for some months.

Born and educated in Victoria, Mr. Bone was for many years associated with his father, W. H. Bone, in the former T. N. Hubben Company, book-sellers, stationers and printers, which later became the Hubben-Bone Company, with premises on Government Street.

Until the state of his health curtailed his activities, Mr. Bone was a member of the Colwood Golf Club and of the Rotary Club and of the Masonic Order for a number of years.

He is survived by his widow, residing at the family residence, 349 Vancouver Street; one son, Constable Douglas Bone of the Victoria motorcycle police corps; and a daughter, Kathleen, at home; his father, in Victoria; two sisters, Mrs. A. Edgar McMicking, Linden Avenue, and Mrs. I. R. Gard, Seattle; and an aunt, Mrs. Reynolds, in San Francisco, and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

SCOTTSBORO TRIAL
Decatur, Ala., Dec. 4. (Associated Press).—The state rested its case today against Clarence Morris, second of the seven negro defendants in the Scottsboro case to be tried on a charge of attacking Mrs. Victoria Price.

A section of the London press believed the utmost efforts were being put forward to avoid a breach. The Daily Mail said, "Neutral forces are (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

PRAIRIE MAN IS NEW WHEAT KING

F. Isackson of Elfron, Sask., Wins Championship at International Show at Chicago
Canadian Press
Chicago, Dec. 4.—Frank Isackson of Elfron, Sask., was chosen wheat king of North America by grain and hay judges at the International Livestock Exposition here today.

In region one for six-rowed barley, first place was captured by L. J. Mitchell of Roblin, Man. George C. Avery of Kelso, Sask., counted his fifth award of the show with third place, won the championship with his sample of Trebi six-rowed barley.

J. H. B. Smith, of Wolf Creek, A.B., won first place in the two-rowed barley division, with H. A. Myers of Vancouver, Sask., second.

C. H. Bacon of Kinstino, Sask., placed fourth, with George C. Avery of Kelso, Sask., fifth.

Unity On Proposals To Meet Relief Problems Forecast After Sessions

MISS A. MacPHAIL HAS OPERATION
Markdale, Ont., Dec. 4.—The condition of Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P. for Southeast Grey, Ont., was reported as "satisfactory" today at the Markdale Hospital, where the uneventful operation was performed Saturday.

Four surgeons were present during the operation.

WOULD REDUCE COUNCIL SIZE
Ratepayers Ask For Plebiscite on Cutting Number of Aldermen to Five
Submission of a plebiscite at the civic election next week on the question of reducing the City Council to five aldermen and the mayor is proposed by the Victoria Ratepayers' Association in a communication which will go to the council this evening.

The letter points out that this reduction has been part of the association's programme on previous occasions.

Some of the members of the present council are in accord with the idea of reducing the size of that body, but the proposal to have an odd number of aldermen and the mayor has not met with favor in the past, since it meant that in the case of a split vote a deadlock might be reached. Under the present system the mayor can always cast the deciding vote, and there is no danger of a tie vote when all members of the council are in attendance.

On the present scale of indemnities paid to the aldermen, the reduction by half in the size of the council would save the city only $2,150 a year. Each alderman receives $30 a month or $432 a year.

JAKE THE BARBER IS EXTRADITED
Washington, Dec. 4.—Extradition to the United Kingdom of John (Jake the Barber) Factor of Chicago for trial on a charge of participating in an $8,000,000 swindle, was approved today by the United States Supreme Court. The court upheld the action of the seventh circuit court of appeals directing extradition.

P. D. M. Cowan Rhodes Scholar
North Vancouver Youth at U.B.C. Chosen From Among Eligible B.C. Students
Canadian Press
Vancouver, Dec. 4.—Patrick Duncan McTaggart Cowan, twenty-one, son of Mr. and Mrs. McTaggart Cowan of North Vancouver, was named British Columbia Rhodes scholar for 1934 by the selection committee, which met Saturday evening.

He was chosen from among thirteen applicants, and will go into residence at Oxford next October. The scholarship, valued at $400 a year, is available for two years, with the possibility it will be extended for a third.

Young Cowan graduated from the University of B.C. last spring with first class honors in mathematics and physics, and won the Anne Westbrook Scholarship for post-graduate work. He has been attending the U.B.C. this session under that award. He plans to write for his B.A. with honors in mathematics at Oxford.

Born in Edinburg, the new Rhodes Scholar came to British Columbia as a boy and has always taken high standing in his school work. He matriculated from the North Vancouver High School, winning one of the provincial scholarships, and every year at the university was among the prizewinners.

Young McTaggart Cowan took a keen interest in hockey, and was on the North Shore in his school days. He is captain of the University of B.C. Badminton Club, and is a well-known badminton star, having held the Canadian championship on several occasions.

J. B. Clearbue of Victoria, a member of the selection committee, attended the meeting Saturday.

IN HOSPITAL EN ROUTE
Edmonton, Dec. 4.—Miss Toyoko Tokugawa, daughter of the Japanese Minister to Canada, who was taken ill here, was discharged from hospital Sunday and left yesterday evening with her father for Ottawa. The minister is due to arrive back in the capital Wednesday.

MANY AT BIER OF SIR ARTHUR CURRIE
Public Has Opportunity to Pay Last Respects as Body Lies in State in Montreal
Montreal, Dec. 4.—In the dim light filtering through stained glass windows, soldiers and citizens early today began to file slowly past the bier on which the body of Gen. Sir Arthur Currie lay in state in the nave of Christ Church Cathedral.

At 7 a.m. the cathedral doors were opened to those of the public who wished a last reverent glimpse.

Gaily colored flowers in profusion, with the flaming scarlet of Flanders poppies, banked high in the church gave background to the bier draped on which the body lay.

In full uniform at a general, the body was guarded by sentries, picked men of the Royal Canadian Regiment of St. John's, Que. At the four corners of the bier the sentries stood with arms reversed and eyes downcast.

TWO BRITISH FLIERS KILLED
Pewsey, Wiltshire, Dec. 4.—Pilot Officer Griffith Hewitson and Sergeant J. C. Hopkins were killed in a collision of two Royal Air Force planes today. Both machines crashed in flames.

JUDGE ORDERS CLUB SOLD
Union's Property Offered For Tender; Holders of $190,900 Bonds May Bid
Order that the building and property of the Union Club be offered for sale by tender with liberty of the holders of its debentures to put in a tender, was issued by Mr. Justice Fisher in the Supreme Court here today upon the application of H. G. S. Heistermann, counsel for the Royal Trust Company and the club's debenture holders.

The application represented $190,900 of debentures which had been issued on the club property which had a former value of $500,000. The bonds, which became due this year, were not paid. In addition there were $50,000 of second mortgage bonds which have been wiped out.

The court ordered that the club property be advertised for two weeks in the newspapers and that the tenders when made be submitted and passed upon by the court.

"Owing to the character of the property the debenture owners must bid to protect themselves," said Mr. Heistermann. "The property has dropped enormously in value. The Union Club may take the property back on resumption of debentures."

At Mr. Heistermann's request the justice decided to permit debenture holders to tender their debentures towards payment of the purchase price, but provided that such a purchaser should put up enough cash to cover all the legal costs.

H. G. Lawson, as counsel for the club, said he agreed to the arrangements.

DOLLAR AT $1.01 1/2
New York, Dec. 4.—Canadian, British and gold standard currencies rallied in late dealings on the foreign exchange market here today.

The Canadian dollar finished at 1 1/2 per cent premium, 1/4 down. Sterling closed at 65.11, off 6 1/2 cents net. The pound had touched $5.09 1/2 at noon.

THREE FACE TRIAL AFTER POLICE TRAP
One Young Man Shot and Wounded By Detective in Vancouver Drug Store; Charged With Armed Robbery
Canadian Press
Vancouver, Dec. 4.—Walking into a police ambush at 1st Sage's drugstore, Fourth Avenue and Cedar Street, at 10:45 yesterday evening, William E. Scerban, twenty-four, was shot and wounded by Detective A. S. Hann, and John Gwynn, twenty-four, and Louis Barr, twenty-two, were arrested on charges of armed robbery. Scerban today was in the General Hospital, where surgeons extracted five slugs from his knee. He also is charged with robbery.

Detectives E. Pettit, J. Morrison and J. Copeland took part in the capture of the men. Acting on a tip received from a citizen, who saw three men, who were acting suspiciously, in an automobile in the vicinity of the drug store, the detectives went to the store, and the other officers remained on duty outside.

Within a few minutes after the arrival of the officers an automobile appeared and came to a stop 100 feet west of the store on Fourth Avenue. Two men left the vehicle and entered the store. A third man remained at the steering wheel.

SIR B. ZAHAROFF ILL AT MONTE CARLO
Monte Carlo, Dec. 4.—Sir Basil Zaharoff, Europe's "man of mystery," whose health for the last year has caused concern, returned to the Riviera Saturday in a feeble condition.

The eighty-three-year-old financier is suffering from rheumatism. It was said at his hotel to-night that Sir Basil had recovered excellently from the fatigue of the trip from Paris.

Hawaiian Volcano Stages Big Spectacle
Associated Press
Hilo, Hawaii, Dec. 4.—Molten lava surged and spouted in the Mokuwe-we crater at the summit of Mount Mauna-Loa today in a continuation of the greatest eruption of that volcano since 1903.

A cascade of fiery lava seething across the plateau at the summit forms a pillar of smoke by day and of fire at night.

Dr. Thomas A. Jaggar, volcanologist, who took up headquarters near the crater, is making scientific observations. Dr. Jaggar said activities here, in Alaska and Salvador, at least in part, were attributable to a sunspot period coming on an average of every eleven years.

Common Problems of West Should Be Faced Without Political Consideration, Says Saskatchewan Premier; Unemployment and Work Camps Subject Discussed

Joint Resolutions Will Be Presented
Conference Between Bracken of Manitoba, Anderson of Saskatchewan, Brownlee of Alberta and Pattullo May End To-night
Expectations that the four western provinces would arrive on common ground in making recommendations to Ottawa regarding relief administration, creating of work to put men back to work, refunding to aid the provinces in their financing, and other matters of general interest to the west were freely voiced this morning after the first session of the conference which opened at the Parliament Buildings this morning.

At the invitation of Premier Pattullo of British Columbia, Premier Anderson of Saskatchewan, Premier Brownlee of Alberta and Premier Bracken of Manitoba are in Victoria for the first conference of four western premiers ever held in the city. Ministers of the British Columbia Government were present at the conference this morning which continued from 9:30 o'clock and continued until 1 o'clock. The premiers then adjourned to lunch together. They will meet again this afternoon and this evening will have dinner with Premier Pattullo after which they will continue the discussions which may conclude this evening.

UNEMPLOYMENT
Unemployment in its various phases was the subject under discussion this morning. Plans to co-ordinate efforts were given consideration and later it is expected resolutions will be adopted as the basis of recommendations to Ottawa on the course finally recommended.

Immediate problems facing the four provinces are being considered first and out of this discussion it is anticipated general proposals will arise. The case of single homeless men in camps, and when they leave camps, was discussed this morning as a vital phase of the situation. The case of married men, for some of whom adequate provision is not made, was also considered. Permanent plans to meet many of the problems the provinces now face are hoped for as a result of the conference.

EARLY START
Premier Anderson arrived in Victoria yesterday and was met by Premier Pattullo. Premier Bracken and Premier Brownlee arrived this morning. They were accompanied by secretaries and were provided for them from the civil service staff at the Parliament Buildings.

The conference was scheduled to commence at 9 o'clock, but the premiers this morning expressed their readiness to start earlier and opened the first meeting of the two days' session in the government members' room of the Parliament Buildings at 9:30 o'clock.

SIGNS OF SUCCESS
Encouraging signs for the success of the conference were seen in the interest shown by the premiers in the subjects to be discussed. Comments by Premier Anderson, head of the Conservative government of Saskatchewan indicated that party affiliations would have no bearing at all in the conference.

"The getting together of the four western provinces in order to primarily adopt measures of uniformity in relief administration and unemployment measures should receive commendation and support of the people of the west," Premier Anderson remarked.

ADDITIONS TO U.S. NAVY ARE URGED

Secretary of Navy, in Annual Report to President, Says Republic Must No Longer Lead in Disarmament By Example

Washington, Dec. 4.—Adoption of an orderly building programme to make the United States navy "second to none" is urged by Secretary Claude Swanson of the navy in his annual report to President Roosevelt.

"Since the war the United States has been a leader in the disarmament movement," Swanson said in the report, submitted to the President yesterday evening. "We still continue most earnestly to strive for a reduction of armaments among the powers by agreement, on a relative basis."

"The time has come, however, when we can no longer afford to lead in disarmament by example. Other powers have not followed our example, with the result the United States now finds its relative naval strength seriously impaired."

The Secretary added of the significance of naval treaties the United States alone had not undertaken an orderly building programme designed to bring the navy to the full force permitted by agreements.

PEACE JEOPARDIZED

"Our weakened position does not serve the cause of peace," he said. "It jeopardizes it, because balanced armaments, for peace, is an important element in preserving peace and justice, whereas undue weakness invites aggression, war-breeding violation of one's rights."

Mr. Swanson expressed his approval of the existing ratios of 5-5-3 between Great Britain, the United States and Japan under the Washington naval treaty and approximately 5-5-5 under the London pact.

"There are two methods by which these ratios may be attained: First, by reduction of naval strength on the part of other nations to our level, or second, by our building up to full treaty strength," he said. "Inasmuch as the first method has been tried and has failed, only the second remains open to us."

"SECOND TO NONE"

"I believe one of the strongest guarantees for peace and justice is an adequate United States navy—a treaty navy second to none. I recommend an orderly naval building and an armament programme which will shortly give this country a treaty navy."

Mr. Roosevelt's action in turning over to the navy $238,000,000 for construction and equipment of thirty-two new vessels was described by the Secretary as the first step in such a programme.

He recommended a progressive plan of ship construction to provide for building a specific number of vessels each year to bring the navy to allowed strength and provision for replacement of over-age vessels.

POSITION OF JAPAN

Tokio, Dec. 4. (Associated Press).—Secretary of the Imperial Japanese Navy, Admiral Terauchi, today announced that Japan's position in the world was at the wheel of the automobile on Fourth Avenue.

Scranton was rushed to the hospital, while Gwynn and Barr were taken to police headquarters and formally charged with robbery with violence. Gwynn had little to say, but Barr strenuously denied any connection with the hold-up.

He recommended a progressive plan of ship construction to provide for building a specific number of vessels each year to bring the navy to allowed strength and provision for replacement of over-age vessels.

Statement To-morrow On Irish Link With Empire

working with this object in view," but did not indicate the source of its information.

Mr. Thomas's declaration before the Commons was foreseen as a decisive factor in this resurgence of the Anglo-Irish differences.

By Frank H. King, Associated Press Foreign Staff

London, Dec. 4.—Whether Ireland will remain a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations or secede and become an independent republic, with thousands of Irish people in England and Scotland subject to deportation unless they choose British citizenship, is expected to be presented to the House of Commons to-morrow as a clear-cut issue.

Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary of State for the Dominions, and the Free State President, Eamon de Valera, have joined in a wordy battle which it is feared will revive all the bitterness of the ancient Anglo-Irish differences.

If a Free State political crisis is created, it is believed in authoritative quarters President de Valera will call a general election on a platform of an all-Ireland republic, that is, a de jure republic for all Ireland and a de facto republic for the twenty-six counties of the Irish Free State.

(The six counties of Northern Ireland are not a part of the Free State.)

As Secretary for the Dominions, Mr. Thomas, by his expert declaration in the Commons to-morrow, has power to make peace or otherwise between Britain and Ireland, according to those in closest touch with Free State opinion.

If President de Valera declares outright for a republic after Mr. Thomas declares Britain's stand on Tuesday, political observers in London believe the London government will proclaim all Irish people living in the United Kingdom aliens, but with the

JOSEPH DAWSON, NANAIMO, DIES

Nanaimo, Dec. 4.—Joseph Dawson, aged seventy-five years, a resident of this city for the last twenty years, passed away at the home of his son, Joseph Dawson, 722 Nicol Street, at 1:35 o'clock this morning after a brief illness.

He was survived by four sons, Joseph, Nanaimo; John and Thomas, Vancouver; and Robert in England, and six daughters, Mrs. R. E. Birkett, Mrs. Charles Panting and Mrs. W. Johnston, Vancouver; Mrs. W. W. and Mrs. T. Maszuke, London, Ont., and Mrs. Fred Dixon, England.

The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Jenkins chapel, Rev. J. H. Wright will officiate.

There is some doubt as to whether the plebiscite could be taken on December 14 on the question, "Should the late of the date on which it has been proposed. It is not likely all members of the council would be prepared to vote on the question, and in order to take the vote on the regular election day, the plebiscite would have to be advertised immediately, according to the provisions of the Municipal Act."

When the question is discussed, it is probable the matter of having residence qualifications for aldermen and the mayor made the same as those for school trustees. Under the present qualifications school trustees must live within the city, but the only thing necessary for other offices is that a man must own a certain amount of property any may live anywhere. An argument advanced on this point on previous occasions has been that the present system would leave the way open for all the council members as well as the mayor to live outside the city.

The council this evening will also have the amendments to the water by-law before it. This amendment sets new service charges against all meters larger than the regular 8-inch size used by ordinary householders.

opportunity of taking British citizenship.

Such action, however, would have to be prefaced by an Imperial Conference to consider Irish secession, a problem which the Empire never has actually faced.

Irish political observers are represented as believing de Valera will not call a general election at present, but his delay in reply to a previous challenge from Mr. Thomas "I have no doubt what the choice of the Irish people will be if the issue is put before them," was significantly pointed to.

Cork, Irish Free State, Dec. 4.—General Owen O'Duffy attacked President Eamon de Valera's Fianna Fail Party in a speech at Maroon yesterday evening.

General O'Duffy, leader of the United Irish Party and commander of the National Guard, was not molested despite the fact he wore the emblematic blue shirt, prohibited by the government, and in addition called the Fianna Fail a "decaying organization."

He described the Valera party as disillusioned and sordid and said his blue shirt movement would give the Fianna Fail leaders "the relief of going back to private life."

The meeting was attended by 500 persons dressed in blue shirt uniforms and was heavily guarded by police.

CLASHES IN CORK

The Macroom meeting passed off in tranquility, with no reports of disorders here in which several persons were injured during hand-to-hand fighting between Republicans and Blueshirts yesterday evening. Thomas Barry, Republican leader, was among those hurt. After stiff fighting in the streets the rioters moved on to the Macroom town hall, where they threw stones and bottles through its windows.

The demonstration was finally broken up by police.

Blythe, former Finance Minister, defied police attempt to make him remove his blue shirt and black beret when addressing a gathering at Queenstown.

Western Premiers Open Conference Here

READY TO CO-OPERATE

Premier Bracken, head of the Farmer-Liberal Government of Manitoba and Premier Brownlee, head of the Farmer Government of Alberta, also voted approval of the plan to co-operate. Both were interested in the subjects to be discussed and were informed that no set agenda would be before them and the broad subject of unemployment relief, financial relationships between provincial governments and the Federal Government and plans to create work in place of relief payments would be open for discussion.

In this connection Premier Anderson commented that besides the unemployment problem there were others of a more lasting nature and peculiar to western Canada on which the provinces should unite regardless of the political coloring of the respective governments.

PROBLEMS IN COMMON

"There are many problems in common," he remarked, "and political differences should not prevent action in the general interest of all. Inter-provincial trade has received too little attention up to the present in western Canada, and this subject ought to, and will, receive attention of inter-provincial western conferences. Many other economic and social questions will readily suggest themselves. Something has already been done in this direction, but there is ample scope for further development along these lines."

Appreciation was expressed by Premier Anderson of help given to Saskatchewan in time of distress.

"I am sure that our people," he said, "especially those directly assisted, would have me thank the people of British Columbia who have during the last three years generously forwarded their cars of fruit and vegetables to the drought-stricken province. These donations were deeply appreciated and as head of the government I wish on behalf of our people to thank all those who assisted in bringing joy and succor to so many of their fellow Canadians in our province."

Welfare Drive For Funds Is Launched

Mr. Carmichael also made an appeal for more assistance and anyone willing to volunteer services for the work is requested to communicate immediately with the campaign headquarters on Government Street, in the Hibben-Bone Building.

CHAIRMAN'S APPEAL

F. E. Winslow, chairman of the campaign committee, in a general appeal to the people for support, said that the canvassers be given a co-operative reception when visiting city homes. "They are citizens like yourselves," he stated, "and are giving of their time generously without recompense. Do not put them off, ask them to call back or waste their time unnecessarily."

The canvassers connected with the drive are all authorized collectors and the association has protested against the interference of outside collectors, allegedly taking part in the "charity racket," reported in the city.

The drive has received the unanimous endorsement of all public spirited citizens and prominent public dignitaries.

The following endorsements and appeals have been given on behalf of the committee in charge:

MAYOR LEEMING

"I would urge all citizens to do everything possible in support of the drive for funds to carry on the work of the Friendly Help and Welfare Association."

"This association is rendering a most necessary service to the whole community and supplying many material necessities to those in need. It covers a wide field of public service and being under the direction of an able and experienced board of directors ensures all contributors that any funds subscribed will be wisely and economically distributed."

"In planning this campaign for funds, it is the object of the Friendly Help and Welfare Association to attract sufficient voluntary support to relieve the tax-payer of any civic expenditure on charitable work."

"I sincerely trust that the present appeal will meet with a most generous response."

REEVE ALBERT HEALD, ESQUIMALT

"I must thank you for the opportunity you have given me of endorsing the public appeal the associated social services are making in their drive for funds to continue the very necessary work they are doing in helping to alleviate the distress so prevalent these abnormal times."

"It has been my privilege to be associated with the Esquimalt Friendly Help Society for the last two years, and it is only when one has the opportunity of personal observation (by association) that one realizes to the full the wonderful work that is being performed by these welfare associations, but they must have funds to be able to carry on. In my opinion, the amalgamation of the Friendly Help Societies and welfare associations in the Greater Victoria area, is a step in the right direction, and will tend to more efficient service, and less administrative expense."

"May I urge upon those who are able to give, to give freely—the need is very real."

JOSEPH A. SAYWARD

Asthma Prevalent In B.C.

Thousands Successfully Restored to Health by Famous Herbal Remedy

PROMINENT C.P.R. MAN SUFFERED WITH ASTHMA FROM INFANCY

Dear Sir: I have been a sufferer from Asthma since infancy and have tried all sorts of remedies, including doctors and hospital treatments, but none gave me any relief. Your medicine, Harris' Wonder Health Restorer, was highly recommended to me by a friend, and I decided to give it a trial.

It is almost eight years since I took the first bottle of your medicine and after one treatment I was able to enjoy a full night's sleep, which was something I had scarcely ever enjoyed during my lifetime. I continued the treatment for over two years, reducing the dose as time went on, and to-day I can say without fear of contradiction, I have never had a recurrence of Asthma, and my weight has increased about fifty-three pounds since I started Harris' Wonder Health Restorer.

This letter I would like to place before the public, because I have absolute confidence that the medicine will do the same for others as it has done for me, and although I have been a sufferer from Asthma, I can not reach the many sufferers outside the city excepting by this method.

Yours truly,
J. E. DUNCAN,
355 Twentieth Ave. West, Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. Duncan is well known in Vancouver, having resided there over 20 years, being Chief Clerk at C.P.R. Freight Office.

VICTORIA MAN SUFFERED GREATLY WITH ASTHMA

He writes:
It is with pleasure that I wish to testify that Harris' Wonder Health Restorer has done for me.

I suffered a great deal with Asthma and tried all kinds of different medicines and doctors' treatments which failed to do me any good. I was advised to take Harris' Wonder Health Restorer and after the first bottle I had a great improvement, and after taking five bottles I was able to breathe freely. I have gone through the whole winter without one bad attack, which proves it is a wonderful medicine. I have been a sufferer from Asthma since I was a child, and I am glad to say that I have been cured by this wonderful medicine.

Yours sincerely,
MR. C. EVA,

VANCOUVER MAN IN HOSPITAL FOR SIX MONTHS NOW A HEALTHY AFTER SIX BOTTLES

Dear Sir: I was invalided from France in 1918, suffering with heart trouble (known as V.D.H.), and after spending 23 months in hospital, I was discharged as medically unfit. I was advised to take Harris' Wonder Health Restorer and after the first bottle I was able to breathe freely. I have gone through the whole winter without one bad attack, which proves it is a wonderful medicine. I have been a sufferer from Asthma since I was a child, and I am glad to say that I have been cured by this wonderful medicine.

I have only taken six bottles, and I can assure you it has done a great deal for me. It has built up my whole system.

Yours gratefully,
JAMES HANFORD,

BOY OF FOURTEEN
IS HELD AS THIEF

Vancouver, Dec. 4.—Answering a call at 6 o'clock yesterday, to the home of Mrs. J. Gibson, 1238 Franka Street, Detective A. M. Stewart and D. W. Shearer found a fourteen-year-old boy, who had been ransacking the basement of the house. The boy was taken to the detention home to await trial in juvenile court on a charge of breaking and entering.

Burglars took jewelry and four dollars from the home of J. E. Aydon, 3455 Burras Street, and jewelry and two dollars from the residence of H. S. Baker, 2419 Stephens Street, West Twelfth Avenue, was looted of silverware, a revolver, personal effects and eight dollars.

A window-smashing thief obtained a cheap watch from the store of M. Yamamura, 310 Main Street, Sunday, at 6 a.m.

Nelson, B.C., Dec. 4.—Declaring the explosives found in the stolen car they were occupying had not been picked up to be used for unlawful purposes, but only through an act of foolishness, and admitting the theft of Rose Dalgleish's car from Kamloops two weeks ago, Steve Stogryn, alias Bud Anderson, seventeen, of Calgary; Fred Jones, eighteen, Victoria, and Harry Landick, nineteen, Woodstock, Ontario, appeared before Judge W. R. Nisbet in County Court Saturday and elected for speedy trial.

Landick also admitted having a .38 calibre revolver on his person. They will be sentenced December 12.

In view of their youth and their apparent clean past record, Judge Nisbet recommended the withdrawal of the explosives charge. Before they appear for sentence Sgt. C. G. Barber, prosecutor, will communicate with provincial police authorities at Victoria.

The boys met by chance in Calgary a few weeks ago, they said.

ITALIAN WHEAT
NOW SUFFICIENT

Rome, Dec. 4.—Premier Mussolini, distributing prizes to winners in the annual wheat-growing contest, said Sunday the farming people of Italy were assured of adequate bread supplies for any emergency.

He declared victory had been attained in this year's harvest after an eight-year effort to make the country self-sustaining. He pointed out that was of tremendous importance financially, economically and in a military sense.

A LEDGE OF
CHICAGO DIESPresident of International Harvester Co. Succumbs in Sixty-eighth Year

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Alexander Legge, sixty-seven, president of the International Harvester Company and first chairman of the Federal Farm Board, died at his home in suburban Hinsdale yesterday.

The death was due to heart disease, and came within a few hours after he first had complained of being ill.

Alexander Legge, a farm boy, went to the city and made good. He became a success largely because he was a red-haired fighter, a shrewd trader and knew farmers.

Legge always dealt with farmers. He started as a collector and rose successively until in 1922 he became president of the International Harvester Company.

But he took time out to serve the tillers of the soil in another way. President Hoover drafted him as chairman of the farm board—one of the Hoover government's greatest economic experiments. It required of him the full powers of his expert mind and some of the reserve in his six-foot-three, 200-pound body.

For twenty months he bore the brunt of criticism, always fighting back, never yielding to his critics. When he resigned to go back to his harvester company, he was called "hard-headed, hard-boiled and astute."

Once before he was in his country's service. In World War days he served as director of industrial mobilization, a dollar-a-year man. He was thrust into international prominence when he became chairman of the war industries board in charge of all munitions shipments, both to the United States and allied forces abroad.

At Versailles, Legge was President Wilson's economic expert.

BORN IN WISCONSIN

The next youngest of four children, he was born on a farm in Dane County, Wisconsin, January 13, 1866. The only systematic education he had was three months in a grade school at the county seat.

He once said his schooling was "infrequent." His education came by hard knocks and experience. In 1881 he went to Nebraska and for ten years worked from farm to farm. He came to know farmers intimately.

Then he went to Omaha. He went ahead rapidly with the McCormick company. In 1899 he was brought into Chicago as manager of the collection department. In 1902, when the International Harvester Company was formed by merger of the McCormick and the Deering and other interests, the farm boy became assistant manager of domestic sales.

From then on his rise took him through the offices of assistant general manager, general manager, vice-president, and on June 2, 1922, president, succeeding Harold F. McCormick, at a reputed annual salary of $100,000.

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—A congregation numbering several thousand packed the largest of the local theatres yesterday during the memorial service for Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, held under the direction of the Ottawa branch of the Canadian Legion.

The Governor-General was represented by A. F. Lascelles, while among those attending were Prime Minister Bennett and several other members of the cabinet: Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Party, Rt. Hon. Sir Robert B. Borden, Canada's war-time premier, Sir William Lyon Mackenzie King, high commissioner to Canada, representatives of the foreign diplomatic service and other notables.

Major John S. Roper, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, led in the simple but impressive service.

Memorial services were held yesterday also in Brandon, Ont., and other centres.

FUNDAMENTAL FAITH
Toronto, Dec. 4.—As illustrating the religious character and fundamental faith of the late General Sir Arthur Currie, an incident of the early post-war days of 1919 in England is recalled here by Norman Sommerville, prominent Toronto K.C.

Britain was then in the throes of the reaction of the war's end. Strikes and general unrest prevailed. All sorts of remedies were being suggested.

Sir Arthur and Mr. Sommerville met in the studio of Richard Jack, a painter of the Royal Academy, who was painting a portrait of the Canadian general. Talking over the conditions of the time, Mr. Sommerville asked Sir Arthur what in his opinion was most essential to bring about real social and industrial contentment and progress.

"Just this," said Sir Arthur, fervently, "Britain must get back to Bible and to family worship and there find peace and comfort."

Vancouver, Dec. 4.—Vibrating roll of drums resounding against the cold-gray walls of Cambie Street Drill Hall, lament to the dead, moved heads—these things were heard and seen as Vancouver's militia paid tribute to the memory of General Sir Arthur Currie at a drumhead service yesterday afternoon.

Military leaders, distinguished citizens, Mayor Louis D. Taylor and the city council united in paying homage to a great Canadian military leader whose achievements in war and peace are written into Canadian history.

Veterans who admired the military strategy of their leader, who recalled the great work he accomplished at Passchendaele, Amiens, the Somme, Hill 70, names familiar to every Canadian soldier, were sprinkled among the audience.

GEN. ODLUM SPEAKS
Brig-General Victor Odium, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., who was closely associated with the late Sir Arthur in his war-time activities, paid tribute to his commander in a brief address.

"Our old commander, General Sir Arthur Currie, has been transferred from this corps to the corps of the dead," he said. "We know he has gone to join other great Canadian soldiers and we know Sergeant-Major Jimmy Robinson, who so recently passed away, will be one of the first to greet him."

"We gather here today not only to mourn his passing and to glory in the great deeds of our lamented leader. This afternoon as we think of him we cannot help think of those who lie in Flanders fields."

"We are proud of General Currie. He was a splendid leader, but he had not his corps behind him."

"From St. Julien in the north, down to Mt. Sorel, La Basse, Vimy Ridge and southward to the Somme, wherever the trump of Canadian feet could be heard, there, also, would you find General Currie. He was proud of the returned men of Canada; he was proud of their splendid behavior. Wherever the Canadian corps shall meet the name of General Sir Arthur Currie will be mentioned."

"LAST POST" SOUNDED
Promptly at 3 p.m. the service commenced with the sounding of the "Last Post," followed by the general salute. The band of the Irish Fusiliers then played and the hymn "For All the Saints" was then sung.

Prayer was offered by Major the Rev. M. H. Jackson, M.C., and the pipers of the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders then played the "Lament." The "Dead March" (Chorus) was then played by the band and benediction was offered by Archbishop de Pénier.

The service concluded with the sounding of "Reveille" and the singing of God Save the King.

Ex-service men who attended the service wore their medals and decorations. Among the ex-service men who attended the service were six patients of Shaughnessy Military Hospital who requested to be in attendance despite their infirmities.

In charge of the service was Major the Rev. C. C. Owen, D.D., who knew General Currie personally during his service overseas. Members of the committee were Col. W. S. Buell, C.B.E., Major the Rev. C. C. Owen, Capt. T. M. Harnett and C. Palmer.

SERVICE IN CATHEDRAL
Yesterday evening a memorial service for Gen. Currie was held in Christ Church Cathedral. Rev. F. H. Wilkinson was in charge and the lessons were read by Col. W. W. Foster, D.S.O., and Lieut.-Col. W. S. Buell. The sermon was preached by Most Rev. A. U. de Pénier, Archbishop of New Westminster. The hymns and anthems were appropriate.

SERVICE IN TORONTO
Toronto, Dec. 4.—Toronto citizens, numbering 7,000, gathered in the Arena yesterday afternoon to pay tribute to the memory of General Sir Arthur Currie.

Members of militia units and veterans' organizations, provincial and civic leaders and people from all walks of life joined in the service, conducted by Ven. Canon F. G. Scott of Quebec.

MANY WORRIES
FACE CABINETNew French Government Confronted With Emptying Treasury and Strike Threat

Paris, Dec. 4.—A rapidly emptying treasury, drainage of gold from the Bank of France, the threat of a general strike by disgruntled functionaries if pay cuts are voted, and manifestations for "work and bread" are piling up difficulties for the recently formed cabinet of Premier Camille Chautemps.

While several hundred hunger marchers rested at St. Dennis, 3,000 miners paraded yesterday at St. Etienne in continuation of vigorous "work and bread" demonstrations held Sunday a week ago.

As the finance commission of the Chamber of Deputies studied the government's budget balancing scheme, a committee of government employees renewed its protests against proposed pay cuts for the functionaries and called on all its members to fight against them.

Meanwhile, 2,000 farmers assembled at La Rochelle, angry at the functionaries' attitude, adopted a resolution in favor of depriving state employees of the right to vote.

MINISTER'S WARNING
The finance committee had before it Finance Minister Georges Bonnet's warning that with money draining out of the treasury, it was essential to restore confidence in the government while the treasury has 500,000,000 to 600,000,000 francs; it must meet engagements of 770,000,000 francs.

To add to Premier Chautemps' troubles, the finance commission made drastic changes in his financial restoration programme and refused to give the government the necessary power to cut the pay of government functionaries, a vital point in the economy programme of the present and previous cabinets.

WAR DANGER SEEN IN THE ORIENT

Burnely, Eng., Dec. 4.—Sir Richard Stafford Cripps, soon of Lord Parmoor and Solicitor-General in the government, said in an address yesterday he would not be surprised if war broke out between Japan and Russia within six months.

He added that if it started, the conflict might well end in Great Britain being drawn in.

He pointed out the necessity of rallying the mass opinion of workers to make war impossible in capitalistic forms.

Canadians Win Grain
Prizes At Chicago

W. D. Michell, of Keating, Saanich, and M. S. Middleton, of Vernon, B.C., Among Successful Exhibitors at International Show

Canadian Press
Chicago, Dec. 4.—Championships in flax, alfalfa, rye, peas and beans and first places in classes for timothy, barley, oats, and clover were won by the week-end by Canadian growers, at the Chicago International Hay and Grain and Livestock Show.

The flax championship went to R. A. Meeks of Mannville, Alta.; alfalfa, C. Sorenson, Scandia, Alta.; rye, Mr. S. Middleton, Vernon, B.C.; peas, W. G. Gibson, Ladner, B.C.; and beans, George Bathgate, Diamond City, Alta.

A. Mongeon, Pincher Creek, Alta., won a first in timothy; George C. Averyn Kelo, Sask., a first in barley; and Elton Robert, Cayuga, Ont., a first in alfalfa clover.

J. C. Cunningham, Hornby, Ont.,

won the reserve championship in the beans division and the reserve championship in field peas went to another easterner, Romeo Lacroix of St. Simon, Saginaw, Que.

ONTARIO LEADS
Ontario captured by far the greatest number of prizes in the judging to date, farmers from that province carrying off seventy-five awards. Alberta took seventeen, while Saskatchewan growers were second to Ontario with twenty awards. British Columbia took eight, Manitoba five, and Quebec seven.

Western winners included:
Field peas, large yellow—1, W. G. Gibson, Ladner, B.C.; 2, Ronayne Bros., Pemberton, B.C.; 3, W. D. Michell, Keating, B.C.
Any other color but yellow—3, W. D. Michell, Keating, B.C.

UNION OBJECTS
BOARD MEMBER

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Dec. 4.—The Winnipeg street railwaymen's unit of the One Big Union will not be represented before the board of arbitration appointed by the government in an attempt to settle wage differences between the company and the union.

At a mass meeting concluding early yesterday, the union members voted unanimously to forego representation on the board while James J. Scott, secretary and business agent of the Masters' Union and also secretary of the Winnipeg Building Trades Council, was a member. Scott was named by the government.

ANNOUNCE NEW
TARIFF CUTSBaseball Bat Hickory, Wheel
Discs and Seville Oranges
Profit By Ottawa Reductions

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Dec. 4.—Three changes in the tariff, all reductions of rates, are announced, order-in-council having been passed. Two are designed to promote trade with the United States and the other with Spain.

Because suitable hickory for baseball bats can not be obtained in Canada, a rate of 10 per cent is listed for intermediate and general classifications for hickory wheels are established, the British preference remaining free.

Rates of 10 per cent in the intermediate and general classifications for discs used in the manufacture of automobile wheels are established, the British preference remaining free.

The intermediate rate on Seville oranges, used in the manufacture of marmalade, is made free, the same as the British preference. The general rate remains at thirty-five cents a cubic foot, based on the size and weight of the container. Bitter oranges are available only in Spain.

In Canada's three-decker tariff structure, the British preferential rate applies to the British Empire, intermediate rates to countries with trade treaties with Canada and the general rates to non-treaty countries such as the United States.

Each of the three items concerned was treated in general classifications before, and comparison of rates is difficult.

BAKERY STRIKE SETTLED

Winnipeg, Dec. 4.—(Canadian Press)—Settlement of the strike of the Winnipeg bakery employees was announced yesterday evening and bread deliveries were made as usual to-day. The drivers were given their requests for two loaves of bread daily without charge, that discharged employees be reinstated and that the union be recognized.

THE UPWARD SWING

Information furnished to the Workmen's Compensation Board during the second half of this year reveals evidence of recovery in the major basic industries of the province. This branch of the public service, of course, is better able than any other agency in British Columbia to speak authoritatively on the industrial situation for the reason that employers of labor are required to supply it regularly with all details of payrolls and the number of people working.

The Board observes that the sharp decline in the number of workers employed and in the gross payrolls, which occurred in 1930, continued unchecked for more than three years, and it was not until this last summer that the downward trend reached its lowest point. During the three-year period referred to the number of industrial workmen employed dropped thirty-four per cent and gross payrolls fell forty-three per cent. It should be borne in mind, however, that, with the general reduction in the wage scale, considerably more workmen are now being employed with the same gross payroll expenditure than was the case two years ago.

It is authoritatively stated that the improvement in the lumber industry during the last few months—a good deal of which is accounted for by increased shipments to the United Kingdom—will more than offset the curtailment which occurred earlier in the year, and it is now anticipated that 1933 payrolls will exceed the 1932 figures. Logging camps are employing as many workmen as they did last year. Saw-mill payrolls show a five per cent increase, while the shingle manufacturers' payrolls are expected to be fifteen per cent greater than in 1932.

The most noticeable improvement has occurred in the metal mining industry. This year shows an increase of approximately twenty per cent in the number of workmen employed. In the gold producing properties the increase is upward of sixty per cent. Coal mines are now operating at an increased capacity of about twelve per cent over 1932.

The fishing industry, the power, light and public utility operations, navigation, railways and the general manufacturing industries are employing about the same number of workmen as they did last year. The construction class and the outside services of the federal, provincial and municipal governments show a decline.

The enterprise of men whose usual employment has been interrupted or terminated during the past two or three years has resulted in the establishment of a large number of small employing firms. Many of these operations give promise of being of a permanent nature. The whole industrial outlook of the province, therefore, is more encouraging than it has been for the last few years. Plans for 1934 indicate a continuance of the general upswing in the industrial recovery which is now manifesting itself.

THE WELFARE FUND APPEAL

The various welfare organizations in Greater Victoria are to be commended for joining forces in an intensive campaign—which began to-day—to raise the sum of $35,000 for the relief of many families in this community who will require assistance in one form or another during the winter months.

It is recognized, of course, that there have been numerous demands on the public purse in recent months, that for years there has been considerable overlapping of effort which has materially militated against economic administration and maximum benefit. On this occasion, however, joint action should insure the prompt realization of the objective which the directing officials have set as the minimum amount of money required to meet the exigencies of the times.

At this stage it is recognized that haphazard methods not only are costly but are ineffective from the administrative point of view. Only the most direct plan of relief under the circumstances in which so many families find themselves is of any practical value. Municipal and governmental measures are in operation, to be sure, but they fall very short of what is necessary to stave off real hardship.

There are indications on the economic horizon that times are improving and that the darkest days are now well behind us. In the meantime, however, there is a pressing need for help for the less fortunate. It is thus to be hoped those who are giving freely of their time to the important task of collection will be met with a liberal response to this worthy appeal.

BRITAIN AND THE FREE STATE

Relations between the British government and the government of the Irish Free State will be better understood when Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas tells President Eamon de Valera what would be the British government's attitude toward the declaration of an "Irish Republic."

The government at Dublin already has more or less torn up the treaty which brought the Free State into existence, first by the stoppage of the land annuities payments, then by the removal of the oath of allegiance to the crown from the constitution, denial of appeals to the privy council, and by the imposition of restrictions on such actions of the Governor-General as sanctioned by the treaty.

The British cabinet held a two-hour session to-day, presiding over which was the statement which Mr. Thomas is scheduled to make in the House of Commons to-morrow. It is reported, however, that efforts are being made to avert a breach between the two governments, and that "neutral" forces are working with this object in view.

There are interesting features of this controversy of which Mr. Thomas no doubt will make the most. Mr. de Valera, of course, can not speak for the whole of Ireland; he can speak only for the Free State. In his part of the country dwell approximately 3,000,000 people; in the six northern counties, resolute in their determination to remain within the British Commonwealth, there are about 1,300,000. Great Britain and the Free State have been conducting a bitter tariff war ever since Mr. de Valera stopped paying the semi-annual land annuities. It has been costly for both sides; but much more costly to the Free State, which is less able to bear it than Britain. For example, of the total trade of the Free State in 1931 of nearly $87,000,000, nearly $67,000,000 was done with Great Britain. This has been very drastically cut in the last twelve months, largely, however, by the falling exports from the Free State to Britain.

If Mr. de Valera should announce the Free State's intention of cutting itself adrift from the British Commonwealth, the status of citizens of the Free State at present in Britain, Scotland and Northern Ireland would have to be taken into consideration. It is pointed out that they at once would become subject to alien immigration laws and, unless agreeable to taking out their naturalization papers, would be liable to deportation. This would produce a unique situation.

Another matter which would demand the attention of an "Irish Republic" consisting of the Free State would be that of defence. At present the British navy is its guardian as it is also that of the Northern Counties. With a depleted treasury, rural and urban industry crippled, as the result of the tariff war—which, if the breach should become absolute, would grow more vicious—it is quite difficult to see how Mr. de Valera could recommend to the Dail Eireann an effective defence programme.

And what position would the United Ireland party, the "Blueshirts," take? This organization is demanding that the Free State make its economic peace with Britain and remain in harmonious co-operation with the Dominions and colonies. If Mr. de Valera takes the final plunge, would there not be the danger of civil war? Northern Ireland would be a spectator; but on the alert in jealous guardianship of its own freedom as a partner with Britain and the rest of the British family.

What Mr. Thomas will say to-morrow we do not know. What seems certain, however, is that he will tell Mr. de Valera that if he wants to convert the Free State into a republic he is at liberty to do so—if he is willing to pay the price, economically and, possibly, domestically.

THE ADVENTURE BEFORE COLUMBUS

History holds no mystery deeper than the one which surrounds the activities of white men in America before the arrival of Columbus.

It is established clearly by now that certain Viking explorers did get to the North American continent a century or more ahead of Columbus. They slid down the coast of Nova Scotia as far as Chesapeake, and in at least one spot they fought a deadly battle with Indians.

They are also reported to have landed on the southern shore of Hudson's Bay, and there is a partly substantiated legend that an adventurous band went overland from there as far as Minnesota.

All of this is called to mind by the report of two archaeologists that the prehistoric copper mines of the upper peninsula of Michigan, worked by the Mound Builders countless centuries ago, also were worked by Vikings.

The Mound Builders, whose civilization covered a large part of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, got their copper from Michigan. Then they vanished, and the roving Indian tribes who succeeded them seem to have been ignorant of the use of copper. But the archaeologists now believe that bands of Vikings somehow got to the shore of Lake Superior and took ore from the mines which the Mound Builders had abandoned. This story is as fascinating a mystery as history affords.

Northern Michigan, in the pre-Columbian era, must have been about as far from white civilization as any spot on the planet. It was infinitely more remote than any spot on earth is now.

Byrd, wintering within shouting distance of the South Pole, will be far closer to his homeland than the copper-mining Vikings of upper Michigan were.

How did they get there anyway? What strange bits of restlessness, what urge to penetrate the depths of mystery and danger, led them so far into the wilderness? How far beyond Michigan did they wander? Is there any truth in the old story that the light-complexioned Mandan Indians really descended from some lost band of Norsemen?

We probably never will get an answer to these questions. An impenetrable darkness has settled over that part of this continent's history. But the mere thought of these sea wanderers in their eagle-winged caps digging copper ore from the pits along Lake Superior sets one's imagination working.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE BLUE EAGLE
The Hamilton Spectator

Seven boys were born the other day to a woman in British Columbia and the father was reported to be jubilant. He qualifies, at that, for some kind of an eagle for taking on so many new hands.

THE NEW TURKEY
The Newark News

Among all the by-products of the war, the Turkish Republic has probably been the biggest surprise. Shorn of a large part of the territory over which the inefficient Turkish Empire had sprawled, it withdrew into Asia and set to work to organize a modern state. It has done it. The Caliphate and the sultan and other outworn institutions are plucked courageously forward with determination to win for itself the right to be counted among the world's progressive nations. What Turkey has done, it has done on its own initiative, independent of the tutelage of the west. It has given the outside world a new conception of Turkish character and intelligence. Few pages in history record a more manly, self-reliant effort by a nation to make for itself an honorable name.

Loose Ends

A grave challenge is flung in the teeth of our economic system by the seagulls of Victoria—Mr. Smith complains about an excellent improvement—and Mr. Roosevelt proposes a good idea for Saturday night.

By H. B. W.

GRAVE ISSUE

SOME MEMBERS of the S. P.C.A., at their meeting the other night, discussed the present depression among the seagulls of this district. They said the seagulls were not getting enough to eat, possibly because the seagulls, which swarm in these waters in their many and various species, are evidently consuming all the garbage released by the city upon the unfilled water of the gulf.

This is indeed a serious matter, well worthy of discussion. Mark you, I am not a soft sentimentalist about such things. I do not hold with many of your modern radicals that the world cures every seagull a living. I am flatly opposed to the dose system of relief for seagulls, even during this present acute depression. I contend that if you pamper this generation of seagulls you will rear up the young with false ideas of luxury and produce the masters of lacking in that fine and rugged self-dependence which has characterized our seagulls since the earliest times.

I do not say that you are bound to provide every seagull with a living, but I do insist that your economic system is a rank failure and that you are merely inciting the revolution if every seagull is not given an honest chance to earn a living. What the seagull asks is not charity. He does not want to be dependent on your bounty. He wants to make his way on his own merits. He asks work and wages.

But since the depression the garbage has been of such poor quality that even the most industrious seagull is hard put to it to feed himself and his family. Let the cruel barons of finance and the masters of the economic system beware how far they push our seagulls towards desperation. Let them realize that many a seagull goes home to his hungry family on these cold nights with nothing but a piece of orange peel or a squeezed lemon to keep them from starvation, and on these cold nights that is not a cheering dish.

I mean, how would the barons of finance like to dine to-night on a piece of orange peel or a squeezed lemon? Let them ask themselves if an economic system is fit to survive when it does not give a hard-working seagull a chance to maintain a British standard of living. It is an indictment which is hard for the defenders of the present system of capitalism to defend. I mean, we can afford to let human beings go hungry. Millions of them do without serious complaint or inconvenience to the rest of us. But a system which can't feed its seagulls is doomed to swift decay. When your seagulls are fat and well fed, then you may know that our economic problem is solved, that the depression is over. For if they are fat and well fed, the garbage must be rich, and that means that we have got back to the only practical way of operating this system, which is by gross waste. Therefore, watch the seagulls.

A prominent Victorian wrote me just now about the S.P.C.A.'s concern for seagulls. He said: "Has everybody gone crazy?" Sure we have. And it feels fine.

ALPHABET SOUP

MR. AL SMITH complains that the government of the United States with its R.R.A., its R.E.C., its A.A.A. and a dozen other abbreviated official titles, is becoming like an alphabet soup which no one can decipher. On the contrary, I think it is a swell idea. The time saved all over the States by using a few initials instead of long words must, in the aggregate, amount to millions of hours a day which, no doubt, helps to increase the efficiency of business and thus aggravate the depression. Just the same, it is convenient and spreading rapidly.

Indeed, the habit of using three contractions is so general now that an educated gentleman of the last generation who suddenly stepped into our age wouldn't know what we were talking about most of the time. As efficiency increases and we get down to the two-hour day this arrangement will have to be developed still further. We shall talk almost entirely in initials, a kind of verbal shorthand. A few years hence a couple of fellows meeting on the street will address one another as follows:

"G.M." (Good morning).
"N.D." (It's a nice day).
"H.B." (How's business).
"P.B.A." (Pretty bad and awful).
"S.H." (Same here).
"Y.T.M." (You're telling me?).
"W.A.B.B.W." (Who's afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?).
"Y.H." (How'd you vote in the P.E. Provincial election).
"C.C.F." (Conservative).

"I voted for the T.G. (Tollmie Government) because I wanted a job in the L.C.B. (Liquor Control Board). You know, I admire the new P.M. (Prime Minister) and I'm all for W. (Work and wages). I see that someone else has sighted the S.S. (Seaserpent)."

"The D.L." (Dashed Har).
"I.H. with the S.S." (The seaserpent can depart to another world without disturbing me).
"Y.H. and P.D.G." (With alacrity).
"What'll think of M.W.?" (Mae West).
"N.B." (Not bad).

"She's sure got I.T." (She has a nameless ailment).
"S.Y." (See you).
"And what S.A." (And what sex appeal).
"A.H." (And how).
"Well, C." (Well, cheerio).
"S.L." (See you later).
"Y.H. C.U.S.M.S." (Yes, come up and see me some time).
"O.K."

SATURDAY NIGHT

THE PEOPLE of the United States said President Roosevelt the other day, aren't so crazy that they want to divide up the wealth of the nation on a per capita basis every Saturday night. That wouldn't be so crazy. On the contrary, it might prove the most satisfactory way out of all our troubles. If we had the courage to try it, every Saturday night, every man would be given his share of the nation's wealth and forced to spend it before next Saturday night, such a purchasing power would be created that business would thrive as never before. Soon each man's share would be sufficient for him to afford all sorts of new luxuries and the profits made on these would increase his allowance next Saturday night.

Sure of getting plenty every Saturday, no man would hoard, no man would have to pile up sterile money in banks or seek to accumulate I.O.U.s from other people, which is the basis of our entire fiscal system just now.

Poverty and want would be unknown. All this wouldn't be crazy. It would be the first intelligent use of money since time began—a medium of exchange. All a man's efforts would be returned to him in actual goods. Now most of his effort is devoted to the payment of interest on debts held by other people who, being afraid that they won't have any money next Saturday night, are piling up claims against society in advance. These claims against society in advance are so colossal now that no one seriously expects them to be paid in full, business is ruined under them and money has become a commodity instead of a medium of exchange.

It's not the extravagance of the rich that has wrecked us, but the impossibility of the rich spending all their money on goods. They invest it in land, in plants to produce a still greater surplus of goods. But if we all had to spend and could be sure of getting our wages again next Saturday night, there might be in America sufficient bathtubs for all the population to enjoy another Saturday night luxury for which at present there is a complete lack of equipment in countless millions of homes. But we'll never do it. We lack the courage. We don't trust ourselves, our neighbors or our system a week ahead.

ANTI-SEMITISM

To the Editor:—Your editorial of a few days ago, "Medicine and Anti-Semitism," proves conclusively that humanity's indebtedness to the Jews is very great indeed, and yet important as these temporal blessings are, they cannot be compared with the spiritual ones they have bestowed upon mankind.

It must be ignorance of that extraordinary people's great history and still greater destiny which prevents so many from appreciating them as they should. Scattered the world over, hounded and harassed for centuries, without a country they can actually call their own, sometimes tolerated in it, yet seldom made to feel of it, they have often tried, but in vain, to hide their identity, their racial peculiarities and characteristics betraying their mercenary, forced though circumstances, they became a capable and thrifty people, proving themselves everywhere keen and able competitors, incurring by this very ability the dislike and even the hatred of inconsistent and unsympathetic people.

It is, however, of great importance to know that about the Jews God said to all: "Blessed is he that blesseth thee and cursed is he that curseth thee." If for selfish reasons alone, we should refrain from cursing the Jews, although from a higher motive, that of gratitude, we should bless them, for "Salvation is of the Jews." They gave us the Book of books, and they gave us the Saviour, the Lord of the world, who is coming again to reign from Jerusalem over the nations of the world.

RIVER MOODS

This morning I shall drive beside the river and watch the light that on its rippling lies, Bird flocks of light that shimmer there, and quiver As gulls as the wings of butterflies. And I shall see the Spanish moss that, away in From the cypress trees along the shore, Lifts with the wind in elfin dances, playing Such joyous games as children's hands adore.

But, ah, to-night, just when the moon is shining, The stream will wear a cloak of mystery; Its voice will whisper errands past surmising And strange, hushed tones as I draw near the sea; And the wind-tossed, dank moss along its edges Will wave in grey-ghost warning from the sedges!

The C.P.R. excursions from the prairie have commenced the first leaving Fort William December 1.

The return of the Canadian hydrographic steamer Lilac, which has been fitted to grant a building permit for the erection of a store on Quadra Street near the Cloverdale School. This application, after being tossed around the school board, was referred through a special meeting called for another purpose, so Councillor Hoare informed me, and that Mr. Sewell, the clerk, was responsible for its final introduction. My experience as councillor for a municipality is that at any special meeting of the council, no other business could be considered other than that for which the meeting was called. To say anything, no matter how done is ridiculous, misleading and untrue. I have the opinion of one of the best legal municipal authorities in the city and know whereof I speak.

A fine new launch has been built for E. B. Marvin and Co., to be used in their ship chandlery business.

The steamer Charmer was still ashore near Brockton Point to-day with the steamers Salvor and William Joffre alongside.

ESQUIMALT AND BEERY

To the Editor:—Not long ago we saw very complete reports in the press of a meeting of a large number of electors to protest at the way the election was run in Esquimalt. A lawyer and an ex-minister of the Crown gave it as his considered opinion that things were "rotten to core," and an enthusiastic citizen headed a subscription list with $50 to help pay for a full investigation to find out how the election was run.

A few days afterwards the great man spoke and upbraided the electors for lack of real "sportsmanship" and a knowledge of how to play "cricket." Since then all has been still. The people of Esquimalt are of the opinion that the domination of mind over matter.

cent, which is more than anyone else can say. I always figured out that the least one spends in a campaign, the least he would have to steal to make up the cost. The reason that I ran, is that I am not allowed to represent you for a City Father for another eight years. That is my punishment for telling you the truth in 1921. I don't think I will be the time that my sentence is fulfilled. My only wish is that they would release me from that sentence, so I . . . go forward like God and try to do some good for my people. Will anyone take up with me and help to free me from my shackles? If so, get busy and let me know, as I don't want to die broken-hearted.

I will close by wishing all the elected members every success and hope they will find a solution to get us out of this difficulty, and if I can be of any assistance I would only be too glad to serve.

The IMPERIAL DOUBLE INCOME POLICY is new and unusual

Pays 12% instead of 6%

HERE is a remarkable plan of Life Insurance for the man with young children. It relieves him of a great anxiety—that of providing a sufficient income for the growing family until they are self-supporting.

The Imperial Double Income Policy provides in the event of the policy holder's death, while his children are young, that there will be paid to the family until the youngest child reaches a self-supporting age an income equal to 12% of the face value of the policy.

A $10,000 Policy on this Plan would provide $100 per month ($1,200 a year) during the income period and then pay $10,000 in cash to your beneficiary—perhaps your widow—as a nest egg for her old age.

You see how unusual this is—twice as much income is guaranteed as a similar amount of money could provide under any other plan—and the principal sum is left intact.

Here is real family protection. Send for further particulars today.

TO CO-OPERATE WITH TEACHERS

Minister of Education Promises Sympathetic Towards Teachers' Problems

School teachers of British Columbia on Saturday were assured by Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, of a sympathetic hearing of all their problems and of the wholehearted co-operation of the department in matters concerning them. Dr. Weir was the guest speaker at a luncheon of the Victoria and District Teachers' Association, presided over by W. H. Wilson, president, in the Empress Hotel.

Teachers had been subjected to many criticisms and had suffered generally, but despite all, they had not lost their morale and were still the messengers of good will, he stated. He felt assured the economical clouds were beginning to lift.

Dr. Weir referred to many objections which he had heard during the last three months to teachers and the educational system. He was glad to receive any advice regarding education, but pointed out many of these criticisms had come from sources which were not wholly acquainted with education problems of the day and consequently not qualified to criticize. CHANGE WITH SOCIAL ORDER

One criticism had been that schools were becoming monumental playhouses, inferring that there had been little progress. The speaker pointed out that education had progressed during the last fifty years and stressed the fact that it must be adapted to the new social order or it would be out of date. Material conditions of to-day were not conducive towards the carrying out of the ideals of education, but Dr. Weir did not intend to lose sight of these ideals and looked to the teachers to remind him of them.

Criticism had also been levied at the alleged "text book racket" many persons claiming that too many new books were constantly being introduced into the school curriculum. Teachers were becoming the leaders in the crusade towards greater intellectual freedom and it was very necessary to keep abreast of the progress of the times, he said. One trouble was, he continued, that the individual tended to lag behind social changes and it had been said that "mankind changes but man remains the same." Critics should be sure that they are not intolerant of new ideas and should not harbor too much "the little red school house" ideas.

He amplified however that the little red school house was still necessary on the frontier but this attitude should not be adapted to educational progress. "Education is a living, developing process and methods that were applicable fifty years ago are not adaptable today," Dr. Weir said.

He urged the teachers to press forward for a higher quality and type of education, for they were the guardians of Young Canada.

HIGH SCHOOL ESSENTIAL

He pointed out that high school education was as essential to-day as elementary school studies were fifty years ago.

Some critics claimed they did not get value for the money spent on education. "Who knows whether we do or not?" Dr. Weir asked, adding that the value of education was not realized in dollars and cents. It was not good economy on behalf of the state to reduce teachers to a condition of pauperism, he said.

He then dealt with the controversial issue of free education and the theories as to how long it should be continued, and also with other criticisms including those voiced by persons who wanted higher education to be higher still and out of reach of the masses, and those who claimed that crime did not pay.

Teachers, he said, were becoming more progressive, greater leaders, and more business-like daily and there was no question in his mind that they were fast becoming the leaders in making for a better and improved type of citizen out of Young Canada.

DIES FROM ELECTROCUTION

Ladysmith Woman Touches Light Switch When Stepping From Bath

Ladysmith, Dec. 4.—Mrs. H. Bickerton, of this city, was killed by electrocution in her bath on Saturday, as she stepped out of the bath and apparently touched the ceiling light. A next door neighbor called at Mrs. Bickerton's home and, receiving no reply, became alarmed, as she was aware Mrs. Bickerton was at home. She glanced at the bathroom window, where a light was visible, and was horrified to see the unfortunate woman lying on the floor. Calling assistance, the door was

HON. G. BLACK VISITS SEATTLE

Seattle, Dec. 4.—Whatever statesmen may think of the high price of gold, Hon. George Black, Speaker of the Canadian House of Commons, is all for it because he is from Dawson, Yukon Territory, where a rising gold market put the depression to rest almost overnight. "You see, gold and silver mining constitutes the largest industry we have up there," he said at the Olympic Hotel here. "Naturally, the advance in gold prices has been of immense benefit to the Yukon as a whole, and to most of its people."

His visit to Seattle was without official significance, he said. "I am on my way to Ottawa with Mrs. Black for the session of Parliament," he explained. "We came down from Vancouver to attend a banquet of Alaska and Yukon pioneers Saturday evening and I met a great many old friends."

DUNCAN SPORT

The Shell Oil basketball team was defeated by New Westminster in the Agricultural Hall, Duncan, on Friday evening, 45 to 34. At half time Duncan was in the lead, 25 to 20, but could not maintain the pace, and the Adanacs drew away in the second half.

In the preliminary games Duncan seniors beat Chemsalmus 46 to 38, and Duncan ladies defeated Chemsalmus 19 to 18.

MAKE NEW HABITS PLEASANT

Habits are formed more quickly when we make all the connections with them pleasant. It does help to praise him for things done rightly. The wrong way is dropped because the child finds it gets no response from the mother and the right way gets a very agreeable response. Keep this in mind. It isn't an easy rule to follow, since it is the opposite of the mother's natural reaction, but it is successful.

SPOON FEEDING

"I should like to have advice on teaching my boy to use a spoon," says Mrs. R. E. A. "He is one year old. Should he be permitted to play in his plate? I smacked his hands when he did this. Now when I hand him the spoon he throws it on the floor. I know he can use it because I have punished him for playing in his plate!"

"He is now on the following schedule: 8 a.m.—cup of milk; 9 a.m.—cod liver oil and orange juice; 9 a.m.—cereal and milk; 1 p.m.—vegetable and milk; 5 p.m.—cod liver oil and orange juice; 5:30 p.m.—cereal, sweetbaked fruit and milk. He weighs nearly twenty-two pounds. He won't eat his vegetable and his cereal at night. Can you suggest a three meal schedule using one quart of milk?"

BE PATIENT

Undoubtedly it is a mistake to punish a child for not eating in the accepted adult way. You can tactfully suggest each time he "puddles" in his plate that here is the spoon for eating purposes. When he tries, as he will after a few bites, assist him. Sometimes leaving a child alone with the plate and spoon is successful in encouraging him to eat. Later he can be taught more cleanly eating habits after he has accepted the new order and learned how to handle his spoon. As must be emphasized, you help nothing in making any new habit disagreeable by connecting it in the child's mind with punishment. My leaflets on "Spoon and Cup Feeding" should be helpful to you as well as "Feeding from Twelve to Eighteen Months." A self-addressed, stamped envelope sent to this department with your request for these leaflets will bring them to you promptly.

Your present programme offers meals so frequently as to be a natural deterrent to a good appetite. Feed at 11, and 5:30. Offer orange juice and cod liver oil at 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. You may furnish one cup of milk with each of the three regular meals and use the fourth cup in cooking the cereal and making a milk pudding.

Any parents and friends of the boys interested in the work of the committee are welcome to attend.

Equilateral United Bazaar—The annual bazaar arranged by the Ladies' Aid of the Equilateral United Church will be held Friday, December 8, at 7:30. There will be stalls of plain and fancy sewing, home cooking, novelties, candy and a musical programme given during the evening.

Held Successful Sale—A very successful Christmas bazaar was held by L.O.B.A. Lodge No. 216 in the lodge hall under the general convenorship of Mrs. Murray. The bazaar was opened by the Worthy Mistress Sister Caldwell, who was presented with a lovely bouquet of flowers and a little gift. Conveyers of the stalls were as follows: Novelties, Sister Peterson; candy, Sister Morgan; home cooking, Sister Miller; fancy work, Sister Kelman; household goods, Sister Smith; tea-cup reading, Sister Mowat; Miss J. Hansen won the box of chocolates and Mrs. Ashworth the fancy-dressed doll. The next meeting will be Tuesday, December 9, when installation of officers and the second degree will be put on. All sisters are asked to be present.

Spanish Welfare Association—The Spanish Welfare Association has postponed its monthly meeting from Wednesday, December 6, to Wednesday, December 13, at 2 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the S.P.C.A. rooms, Campbell Building.

Cadboro Bay Sea Scouts W.A.—The monthly meeting of the C.B.S.S. W.A. will be held at 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, December 5, in the Scouts' headquarters, Hobbs Road, Cadboro Bay. All friends interested in the activities of the W.A. will be welcome.

Retired Chamber Official Thanked

A vote of appreciation, moved by W. T. Straith, was passed to Harold Palmer, retired assistant secretary of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, by the directors of that body at their luncheon to-day.

Wording his motion, Mr. Straith spoke of the willingness of Mr. Palmer to assist in all projects of the chamber and his assistance in all matters pertaining to that body.

The resignation was accepted at the meeting.

At the meeting of the Round Table Club in Speedie's private dining-room to-morrow evening, V. L. Denton will speak on "Maritime Problems of Canada."

PERSONAL

A very enjoyable surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Woodward, 1887 Fairfield Road, Saturday evening. An excellent three-piece orchestra supplied the music for the evening's dancing. The self-invited guests were: Misses Eileen O'Neill, Cherry Stone, Marjorie Delmas, Lorraine McDonald, Mary and Joan Bland, Lorna Elliot, Audrey Homer-Dixon, Peggy Bentley, Mary Drummond, June Maynard, Winnie Foulds, B. Harris, Edna Parker and Messrs. Lloyd Patterson, Jack Ferguson, Sid McAllister, Alan Bentley, Alan Cunningham, Bud Foster, Arnon Woodward, Terry Chetley, Beverly Johnson, Stanley Hodgkinson, C. Chambers, Bill Foulds, D. McDams, B. Wallis, J. Kirk, R. Shepherd, O. Quelpa, G. Gaunt, G. Smoother, Townsend, A. Downs and many others.

The popularity of the Palais de Danse as a Saturday night rendezvous was last week-end by numerous theatrical and sporting counter-attractions. An extra attraction was provided for the large and happy crowd by the Irish Washerwoman, who vociferously applauded. Among the dancers were Mr. G. R. Brett with four, Mrs. A. C. Buckley with six, Mr. G. Bolter with four, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Richardson with six (from H.M.C.S. PAPERS FILED BY ALDERMAN

Parks Chairman Officially in Contest For Aldermanic Honors

Nomination papers for re-election to the City Council were filed this morning by Alderman John A. Worthington. Mr. Worthington is proposed by James Forman, 1000 Terrace Avenue, and seconded by J. A. Scott, 1128 Colverson Street.

By placing his name in nomination again, Alderman Worthington will seek to retain his position as senior council member among those retiring this year. He has served for six consecutive years on the board and has borne a large part of the administrative burden during the last two years when the council has had to make economy its slogan in practice as well as name.

As vice-chairman of the public works committee and a member of the public works executive, Mr. Worthington has played a large part in helping the city to keep within its expenditures on works, and also as a member of the finance committee which drafted the reduction budget at the beginning of the year.

For the last five years he has been chairman of the parks committee and under his direction numerous improvements have been carried out, including development at Beacon Hill Park, establishment of Macdonald Park in James Bay and other works. In this connection Mr. Worthington has fostered a system of community interest in parks and playgrounds, such as that under which Hollywood Park in Foul Bay was established.

He is the senior city member on the Victoria-Sanich Parks and Beaches Committee, and is also on the lands and zoning committee. Other responsibilities of civic duty which he holds are as a trustee of Royal Oak Burial Park, chairman of the house committee of the Jubilee Hospital and a member of the assessment Court of Revision.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

The slightest eruptions or skin disorders call for special types of beauty treatment.

The minute you notice anything wrong with your complexion, the wisest thing to do is put yourself in the hands of a physician or a skin specialist.

If you use cosmetics at all while you are undergoing skin treatments, select kinds recommended by the doctor who is caring for you.

Absolute cleanliness is necessary to a healthy skin. Once you discover the slightest blemish on your face, take extra precautions. Use a medicated soap. Compact powder puffs are the worst offenders of cleanliness. Be sure that yours is washed often enough to keep it scrupulously clean. New ones cost only a few cents.

Always apply creams, lotions and make-up with clean cotton pads. In that way, germs on your hands are not

Members of the Uplands Golf Club held an enjoyable dance in the clubhouse on Saturday evening. The convener was Mr. Douglas Fletcher, Mr. W. J. Johnston and Mr. R. L. Chaloner. Stroll down Yates Street and could not stop to look within Tervo's Apparel Shoppe windows. —'tis amazing the values they do have, and the gowns be so fresh and new. Mister Tervo doth feature evening gowns the day—crisp taffetas, soft satins. La! There be so much of style for those who do decide at the last minute to have a new gown for the ball. Then there be street and afternoon frocks. One there was Chinese red, buttoned high on the neck with many dainty gold buttons. The price is almost unbelievable. Gowns range as low as $5.75.

Did go on to McMartin's Leather Goods Shoppe. 'Tis truly amazing to enter this fine shoppe and find there be so large a store within and so much of goods to see. Whether it be a small inexpensive present, or a really large gift—there be so many things to choose from. Mister McMartin did have a special gift suggestion this day. 'Tis handbags of good leather and good style; $1.75, or but a gold initial embossed they be with $2.00.

Thence did down Douglas Street and to Love's at View Street. Had thought much of a new sports hat. My old one did look very dowdy. 'Tis indeed my lucky morn for Love's had but just unpacked a new shipment of English hats in rabbit's wool. To be the second of my new hat I did at once make one. On looking around to see a goodly assortment of hats. There be sports models in the new Spanish style, and a lot of other styles. The prices, too—Faith! they did surprise me they be so reasonable.

Do go past the Posy Shoppe. No, not that, for cannot forbear to go inside. The daggos do beckon so. Find Mistress Whyte arranging for the holly shipments that do ever go from this fine shoppe each Yuletide season. A gift of a posy to a friend is a sure way to appreciate the letter of the day. The green and the berries—La! was ever there so many clusters and so brightly red. The boxes and labels gay and with each box Mistress Whyte doth place a sprig of mistletoe. 'Tis well to order this fine holly now.

Did arrange to meet Mistress Wynne at Aladdin's Cave, 3321 Government Street. She did hear of Madame Earp, the famous tea cup reader they do have there every afternoon between the hours of 3 and 6, and of how she doth tell so many things that are the truth. The afternoon tea be delicious—dainty sandwiches, divers fancy cakes and the tea they brew—La! 'tis nectar indeed—a special blend of China tea that doth flower within the cup. Then Madame Earp doth

C. W. Lonsdale Has Best Dog In Show

Shawnigan Lake Fancier Lifts Major Award at Local Exhibit With German Shepherd

Major honors at Saturday night's annual Christmas parlor show of the Victoria City Kennel Club were carried off by Bessie von Fairburg, German shepherd bitch, owned by C. W. Lonsdale, Shawnigan Lake, which was judged the best dog in the show. The exhibit was one of the most successful in the history of the club, with 115 dogs entered. The Pekinese proved the most popular class with well over twenty of this breed entered.

Other leading awards made at the show included: Best veteran, Mrs. C. McGee, Kount von Schlaber, a Doberman; best puppy in show, Drumadon Kennels, Drumadon Damselle, Selsyham, and best novice in show, Quandalla Kennels, Quandalla Kido von Dutchnan, German shepherd. During the evening Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, was introduced in the ring. Dempsey, who is a great lover of dogs, showed great interest in the judging.

KALLIO WINS MAT FEATURE

Good Crowd Sees Jack Dempsey and Wrestling Card at Willows Saturday Night

William Harrison Dempsey known to millions of fight fans as Jack Dempsey, the Manassa Mauler, still can find a spot in the hearts of Victorians if the tumultuous ovation he received at the wrestling matches, two of which he refereed, at the Willows on Saturday evening means anything.

When Jack entered the arena a roar of applause went up but when he entered the ring the announcer could hardly be heard by those sitting at the ringside, so loud and prolonged was the applause.

Introduced with Dempsey was Joe Carroll of Decatur, Iowa, who, according to Dempsey "was the world's greatest wrestling promoter." He was the discoverer of Frank Gotch and who worked with Farmer Burns for a while.

Promoter Fred Richardson provided a varied card for the 1,000 or so customers although many went away with a feeling of regret that Dempsey had not been called upon to display his wares.

In the final bout of the evening Gus Kallio, recognized middleweight champion of the world, took two straight falls from Cyclone Thompson. The first fall came in the second round when Kallio used a double arm lock after a series of body slams and body sensors. The deciding fall came in the third round when, after an attempted slingshot spin, Kallio got a body slam and followed it up with an arm lock and body press.

WRESTLERS WARNED

The panting pachyderms were in a playful mood Saturday and had the crowd in roars of laughter time and time again when they would slap each other in the face. In the first round it was funny but later it got rather tiresome and "wise-cracks" were forthcoming from the crowd in a goodly number. Dempsey was forced to warn the fighters several times for using unorthodox methods. He applied several punishing headlocks to Thompson when that fighter would not let go when told to.

SEMI-FINAL FIGHT

Perhaps the most interesting bout of the evening, except for the second preliminary where the referee and the two wrestlers mixed it up in the centre of the mat, was the semi-final bout between Herb Parks of Vancouver and Bobby Byland of Minneapolis, which the former won in two out of three falls.

Both boys roughed it up in the first round with the Vancouver lad having a slight edge. In the second round, however, Byland was given a laugh when Byland, always a master showman, was warned for using a clenched fist, started to turn on Dempsey, the referee, thought better of it and backed away into a corner.

The second round saw Byland come out of his corner and start with a series of flying scissor attacks. He moved to the centre of the ring and Parks was successful in working his way out of several head scissors. The mainland boy came back with a flying head scissors and pinned Byland to the mat. The latter tried in vain to get loose but the youngster held on and after holding him down for a minute or so was awarded a fall. He was awarded the fall on a head scissors and body press.

The two grunt and groan artists went at it "hammer and tongs" in the third round. Byland was pulled off by the Manager, Maurice, for using kidney punches and while the referee was still remonstrating with him Parks jumped in with a flying body scissors.

Col. Harry McGee, president, seen before the microphone at the opening of the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto. Left is Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance for Canada, who officiated; right is Mayor Stewart and Chief Constable Draper.

Byland was pulled off again by Dempsey for unnecessary and unorthodox tactics and backed into a corner with a very quizzical expression on his face.

The evening fall came near the end of the round when Byland came in with a flying scissors and body press.

The last round proved one of the fastest ever seen in local rings. Both wrestlers came out of their corners fighting. Parks simulated grogginess from the punishing scissors that Byland had applied in the preceding round. Crucifixes, leg spreads, double arm locks and several other holds were applied by each wrestler in turn in an effort to get the last fall.

WELL-TIMED FALL

Byland rushed in with a flying scissors, got Parks around the body but the latter leaned backwards eluding the groping hands and stood Byland on his head for the deciding fall. Parks timed his leaning backwards perfectly. He took Byland unawares and the latter was not able to get his scissors before the Terminal City boy had crasped his legs and stood him on his head.

In the two preliminaries Al Garnett and Johnny Masters fought to a draw. In the latter bout Johnny Lanchik, the referee, was forced into a fight and the customers were treated to the sight of three men wrestling away in the centre of the mat. Lanchik told Griffin to let go of Pears as both wrestlers were outside the ropes. Griffin refused and when Lanchik started to pull him off he jumped up, threw a couple of "hay-makers," received a short arm jab to the heart and then applied a flying scissors. Lanchik and Griffin went down in a pile in the centre of the ring and Pears climbed back and joined in the general melee. Lanchik was finally freed and the fight pursued its uneventful course.

THREE IN QUEBEC BURNED TO DEATH

Verdun, Que., Dec. 4. — Three lives were lost yesterday in a fire which destroyed six dwellings and severely damaged three others on Gordon Avenue here.

The victims were: Mrs. Caroline Maude Olsen, forty-seven; Mrs. Ernest Kedger, forty-five, sister of Mrs. Olsen, and an eighteen-months-old boy, adopted son of Mrs. Kedger.

All three were in the same apartment, trapped by the rapidly mounting flames.

INAGURATION IN THEATRE

Pottsville, Pa., Dec. 4 (Associated Press). — Mayor-Elect Claude E. Lord is almost certain to "pack them in" at his inauguration. He is to take the oath of office on the stage of a downtown theatre. But that is not all. Between speeches the audience will be entertained with acts of vaudeville.

Pottsville, Pa., Dec. 4 (Associated Press)

— Through the top hat made of California Redwood as a gift for President Roosevelt by J. B. McGinnis, San Jose cabinet maker, will be a little hard and heavy for wear, it is guaranteed not to crush if sat on. McGinnis, in shipping it to the President, said he thought it might look nice on the mantle.

SUPPORTS NEW SILVER SCHEME

New York, Dec. 4. — James P. Warburg, adviser to the United States delegation at the recent World Economic Conference, has written Senator William E. Borah of Idaho that he was "in thorough sympathy" with the projected international agreement between silver producing and silver consuming countries, but that his attitude should not be construed as "opening the door to a consideration of bimetallism."

The letter, in reply to a communication from the Idaho senator criticizing Warburg for his stand in the present monetary controversy, said he agreed with the Senator that stabilization "in terms of gold" of a metal used as money "by more than half the world's population" is "a most important element in achieving international monetary stability."

"But," he said, "I would not go so far as to say doubling the price of silver would double the purchasing power of the Chinese, because I believe the purchasing power of the Chinese depends on the goods and services the Chinese can export."

VALIDATION FEE ON DRINK

Canadian Government Collects New Tax on Bonded Liquor Exported

Ottawa, Dec. 4. — Orders have gone forward to revenue collectors throughout Canada to start collection of 20c per proof spirit gallon on all liquor exported out of Canada in bond. While this had been referred to as a tax, departmental officials to-day declared it should be termed a validation fee. It was a charge for services rendered by revenue officials. The fee went into effect to-day.

Explanations are that the United States will go legally wet Tuesday afternoon and a heavy flow of aged Canadian whiskies across the border will set in immediately. Canada has some 40,000,000 gallons of whisky in bond and week-end advices from Washington indicated Canada's quota would be satisfactory to the distilling interests in this country. There will be a substantial outlet for Canadian rye and bourbon.

The Department of National Revenue takes an important part in this export trade, officials here declared. The inspection service, the government certificates of age and "strip labels" placed on bottles are some of the service the department supplies.

HADDON BEFORE LONDON COURT

London, Dec. 4. — Clarence Guy Haddon, forty-three-year-old engineer, appeared again in the Bow Street police court to-day on a charge of attempting to extort money from the King by mail and was remanded in jail until Tuesday.

The public prosecutor read extracts from letters written by Haddon, who claims to be an illegitimate son of the late Duke of Clarence, and hence a nephew of His Majesty. The Duke of Clarence, heir to the throne at the time of his death, died in 1892.

Opening the proceedings the prosecutor declared: "There is absolutely no evidence at all to support his assertion."

From one letter he read: "It would have taken only a year's income from my late father to have made me the happiest and most contented man in the British Empire. It would have meant so little to the royal family. The blessing of God would have been on their household for years, whereas now I will be a byword to the world and so will the name of the royal family."

I FIND CAN REDUCE THE CHOKE BY AT LEAST 50% WHEN I USE THERMALIZED SUPER SHELL

W. J. Twaites of Vancouver, like many a man in your neighborhood, has found the ideal winter gasoline. It's Thermalized.

Only SUPER SHELL is Thermalized

PRODUCED AT SHELLBURN, B.C., BY SHELL OIL COMPANY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA, LTD.

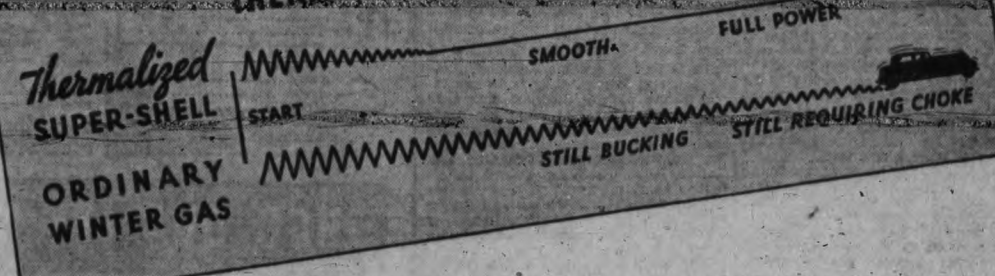

FOR FULL POWER FROM A COLD MOTOR

Don't confuse it with "quick-starting." The effect of Thermalizing is something far greater. A Thermalized fuel sends your car down the street smoothly no matter what the weather is like.

While your motor is still cold, it begins delivering a steady flow of summer-like power. You can cut the choke 'way down. You avoid excessive oil dilution. And you get improved winter mileage and power.

Sounds good? Try it! Test it the coldest time of the day. You'll be amazed by the difference. But remember, only Super Shell (the premium-type gasoline now at the regular price) is Thermalized.

THERMALIZED GASOLINE DOES THIS:

★ THERMALIZED: The name given Shell's combination of processes by which gasoline is made to deliver full power in a cold engine. Originally produced under terrific heat, Super Shell is redistilled, made even more concentrated. And every gallon for your community is Thermalized for local temperatures.

Ask Any Man in Whom You Have Confidence, About Life Insurance

The more successful a man is, the more he appreciates the benefits of life insurance. . . . For this reason we suggest that you ask friends, in whom you have confidence, what THEY think about Life Insurance. They know they have seen the comfort and happiness that it has brought to so many of their friends. For example, by means of a Confederation Life Endowment Policy you can make provision for dependants until they become self-supporting. You can also provide that, if through accident or illness, you become totally disabled, your premiums will be waived during the period of your disability and you will receive a monthly cheque to replace, in part, your lost earning power. And, finally, when the policy matures, you will receive the entire proceeds of the Endowment in a lump sum, or you may take it in the form of a definite Monthly Income for Life.

Confederation Life Association, Toronto, Canada.

Please send me particulars of your Endowment Policy, with Total Disability Benefit.

LONDON EXPECTS GOOD OLD DAYS

Prices of Goods Continue at "Rock Bottom" Despite Fears of Rise
Even in Art and Religion Victorian Stability Seen Returning

Special to The Times
London, Dec. 4.—A look round London to-day prompts the question whether the fabulous "Good Old Days"—which till lately seemed to have gone for ever—are not returning to us again. Several indications seem to point to an affirmative answer.

Take the cost of living in London. When Great Britain went off the gold standard, everyone thought that it would not be long before prices rose all round. "We will have to pay more for what we buy abroad," was the general viewpoint. But up to the present this has not been substantiated. Housewives will tell you that food has never been cheaper—yet nearly all of it comes from abroad and has to be paid for in our depreciated currency. Household goods, articles of furniture, motor cars and motor bicycles are all at "rock bottom" prices and clothing shares the general low level. In one of London's most fashionable streets a man's "fifty shilling" tailors has reared its head, selling every conceivable ingredient of the masculine wardrobe at this modest price. Rents, too, are on the low. For £100 a year, and up to £150, it is now possible to secure a modern flat in one of the new middle-class "communities" which are going up on all sides, complete with lifts, constant hot water and heating, cheap electricity, restaurants and squash courts. Four years ago this rental would barely have secured an old-fashioned "maisonette" in one of the outlying districts, composed of Victorian houses long past their prime and growing beneath a sky crowded which they were never built to withstand.

AVE, VICTORIA!
In art, also, the more stable standards of Victorian England are returning. A public sublimated with thrillers and sex-plays is crowding to see that fine old actor, Sir John Martin Harvey, playing the late Sir Henry Irving's famous part in "The Bells." Martin Harvey often watched Irving play the part and gives a performance probably closer in conception to Irving's than any which has been seen since he died. And contemporary London loves the hoary old melodrama.

Both in novels and pictorial art, sensational styles are falling into disrepute and something more is now being required than attendance at a season's cocktail parties to qualify as a novelist, or a course of self-instruction based upon Picasso prints to qualify as an "artist." Solid worth, in short, is coming into fashion, just as it was in the spacious seventies, before the "Yellow Book" and the Wilde Period set in, and the dilettante entered the halls of fame.

In an age of specialization, the public is coming to demand only the highest standards from its specialists, and dabbles whether in art or life are and

Positively PRETTY Now

A "blood test" was the means of this pale, run-down, underweight girl finding new strength, vigor and beauty. She was one of several below-par patients who recently went to a reputable physician in search of a treatment that would build up their impoverished blood streams.

The physician's test showed that this particular young woman's blood was deficient in haemoglobin and red corpuscles. This meant that there was not sufficient vitalizing oxygen being carried through her blood stream to build up her system and keep her healthy.

As a result she felt tired out, run-down, and distinctly weak. Knowing the value and safety of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a treatment for increasing haemoglobin, the physician instructed the patient to take this remedy and to return in a month's time for another blood test.

She did so—and the physician found that her blood was now positively normal and her blood count actually above normal. Her weight was up and her color improved. As the doctor expressed it: "Her face had rounded out and she was positively pretty."

In other cases blood tests have proved the efficiency of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in building up haemoglobin and thereby restoring pep, vigor and strength to adults, young girls and weak children. Take no chances—try this "blood-tested" preparation. At drug stores—50 cents a package. (Adv.)

MEMORIAL TO HONOR CURRIE

Many Dignitaries With All Ranks of Navy and Army Will Pay Tribute Wednesday

The Lieutenant-Governor, provincial and civil dignitaries, naval, military and ex-servicemen's units and the general public, on Wednesday afternoon will pay tribute to Canada's great military leader, General Sir Arthur Currie, at a memorial service to be held in Christ Church Cathedral, commencing at 3 o'clock. The judiciary, McGill University graduates and the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire will also be represented. Major the Rev. William Barton, V.D., retired padre of the Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade, C.A., who was padre of the brigade when Sir Arthur was its colonel, will give the address, while Rev. E. F. Church will read the lesson.

THE SERVICE
The service will open with voluntary by the organ and Fifth Brigade band, after which the opening sentences of the burial service and passages from Psalm xxxiii will be read. "Give Me Rest, O Christ," will be sung by the choir, preceding the address. The organ selection, "Sleep," by Sir Hubert Parry will be played after the address, and the congregation will join in the singing of "O Valiant Heart" and "For All the Saints." Benediction will be pronounced and the service will conclude with Chopin's "Funeral March."

Military units which will take part in the service are as follows: Fifth Battery, R.C.A.; P.P.C.L.I.; Fifth (B.C.) Coast Brigade; Fifth (B.C.) Coast Brigade Band; the Canadian Scottish Regiment; a composite party from the 11th MG. Bn., C.M.S.C.; 11th Div., C.A.S.C., and 17th Fortress Company, C.E.

With the sanction of the commander in charge, a Royal Canadian Naval detachment of one officer and twenty-four ratings will be present from Esquimalt.

VETERANS TO ATTEND
The following ex-service men's organizations will be represented: The Amputations Association; the Army and Navy Veterans; and the Canadian Legion (B.E.S.L.). All ex-service men have been asked by the Canadian Legion to meet on Courtney Street, just east of Douglas Street, at 2:30 o'clock, so that they can parade in a body to the church.

Units, detachments and associations will assemble on Douglas Street, between Courtney and Humboldt Streets, and commanding officers will insure that their parties are in position by 3:25 p.m. Special sections have been reserved for the various units in the church. Unattached officers will proceed direct to the cathedral, where seats will be allotted.

SOOKE

St. Andrew's night was celebrated on Thursday evening at Sooke Harbor House, where Mary McCoy Jameson delivered a lecture on the life of Caroline Berenson Waine, describing the character of this Scottish noblewoman and her contributions to Scottish music and literature. Scottish scenes shown by the lecturing added interest to the biographical sketch, as well as the rendering of numerous Scottish songs.

In aid of the children's Christmas fund, moving pictures will be shown in the Sooke Hall to-morrow. The show will last about two hours, and will be followed by refreshments and a dance. The affair is under the management of the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institutes.

Hideous Advertising On Roads Challenged

Special to The Victoria Daily Times
London, Dec. 4.—The Council for the Preservation of Rural England does a great work in challenging the jerry-building and hideous advertising which disfigures so many of the beautiful roads of the home counties. In particular, it is gaining support daily.

Not long ago Lady Oxford broke a lance against the petrol-stations, with their nightmarish paint and screaming catch-lines, and the result has been a considerable improvement in the treatment of these places. In some areas prizes for artistic design have actually been won by the owners of roadside pumps.

G. K. Chesterton, himself a countryman with a cottage near Beaconsfield (where he is not taking his ease in one of those Fleet Street Inns he loves so well) made a caustic attack on ugly posters at a meeting organized by Lady Dashwood, wife of England's premier baronet, at West Wycombe Park.

Mr. Chesterton said that the right answer to people who put up hideous advertisements calling upon people to buy their curious foods was to put placards on the opposite of the street, saying "Bland's Cakes Are Filthy" or "Blank's Wine Is Ink."

"It is becoming a serious question," Mr. Chesterton declared, "whether poster advertising is not only filthy and degrading but also unbusinesslike. Southern England is the most beautiful landscape in western Europe and it has been spoilt by vulgarity and avarice which is not accessible to reason."

Gustave Lemoine of France has established a new world's altitude record for airplanes. He ascended 44,808 feet.

Silver Coin Is More Than 200 Years Old

Mrs. P. E. Wakelin Finds Two Ancient Coins In Search For Old Money.

Recent news items regarding forty and sixty-year-old Canadian dollar bills still in circulation, have sent many Victorians digging among their trinket chests to produce other pieces of old money from other countries.

Mrs. P. E. Wakelin, 1919 Camosun Street, brought two interesting pieces of silver coinage to The Daily Times office, her main idea being to discover what they actually were, as they had been laying among the family heirlooms for a number of years.

Reference to the inscriptions on the coins and files on money types showed that these pieces were a 1711 Queen Anne shilling and an 1812 King George silver crown, or five-shilling piece, one being more than 200 years old and the other 100 years.

Strange features of the coins are the milling on the edges. The Queen Anne shilling has the milling done diagonally instead of straight across the edge as with present-day coins. The silver crown has no milled edge, but has a Latin inscription around the rim.

BALDWIN LAUDS CIVIL SERVICE

He Defends "Cuthberts" of Whitehall From Those Who Make Fun of Them

(Special to The Victoria Times)
Mr. Baldwin paid the Civil Service a warm tribute in a speech at the annual conference of the Institute of Public Administration, and attacked "the more vulgar elements—whether political or journalistic," which delighted to make fun of our Whitehall "Cuthberts."

To many he declared, the civil service was something mysterious and aloof, yet there was a vast network of administrative operations, conducted daily by tens of thousands of public servants which affected the life and labor, health and happiness of tens of millions of citizens.

Just as Napoleon could not have won victories without his marshals and the Grand Army, Mr. Baldwin went on, warning to his work of defence, so the boldest Prime Minister was impotent to execute reforms if the administrative machine failed him.

Lord Makes Sport Of "Simple Faith"

Special to The Victoria Times
London, Dec. 4.—Lord Raglan, the scientist peer who recently confounded the "Cuthberts" of Whitehall, now thinks that simple faith is just as great a delusion. Simple faith in heroes, that is to say.

Speaking at the Friends' House in the Euston Road, the imposing headquarters of the Quaker movement in England, he poured cold water upon the traditional heroes of history and religion, saying that the religious teaching would have to be reformed, since it was wicked to hold up to admiration such "monsters of cruelty" as Moses, David, Samuel and other Old Testament heroes.

Lord Raglan was once in the Grenadier Guards, and before the war served as A.D.C. to the governor of Hongkong, and during the war with the Egyptian Army.

A few minutes after Bud Sutherland broke the world's record by looping his glider sixty-three times, his friend, Willis Perry, broke that record by looping sixty-eight times.

BORN
ATLARD—To Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Aylard (nee Elsie Oliver), Sidney, B.C., on Sunday, December 3, at the Jubilee Hospital, a son.

DIED

REDHEAD—On December 1, 1933, Robert Redhead, aged seventy-two years, a native of Chippington, Northumberland, England. He is survived by son, Mr. W. Redhead of Powell River, B.C., and two daughters, in England, Ethel Ellen and Sarah. The deceased was a member of the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada, and of the Royal Canadian Legion.

The remains are resting at Haywards' B.C. Funeral Chapel, from whence the funeral will take place on Tuesday at 10:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

STENBERG—On an early hour, December 3, passed away at Goldstream, Marion Isabel, beloved wife of F. E. Stenberg. She was born at Yale, B.C., November 14, 1884, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stenberg. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Arvid and Albert, and a daughter, Grace. The funeral will be held at Haywards' B.C. Funeral Chapel on Monday, December 4, at 3:30 p.m. Rev. J. S. Patterson officiating. Interment in Royal Oak Burial Park.IN MEMORIAM
TURNER—In loving remembrance of our dear brother, Albert Turner, who passed away December 2, 1932.
The year has quietly passed.
The still we can't forget.
For in the hearts that loved him
His memory lives on yet.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last.
The world's weary troubles and trials now pass.
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore.
God called him home, to suffer no more.
Inserted by his loving brother and sisters.

NEW STUDY OF GOLD POLICY

President Roosevelt Given Statement on Progress of U.S. Monetary Plan

Associated Press
Washington, Dec. 4.—An up-to-the-minute compilation of figures on the progress of the United States government's monetary policy was before President Roosevelt for study to-day following his return from his brief holiday at Warm Springs, Ga.

The statistics were prepared at the treasury and deal with all phases of the gold buy-up programme, purchases abroad and at home, prices and, it is reported, some confidential information on the gold stocks of other nations.

On December 15 more than $700,000,000 in treasury notes and other government obligations will fall due. They are to be met as usual by the flotation of new securities to an equivalent amount.

Possibly there will be an additional offer of securities to be sold for cash, and probably an offer to exchange units of the new issue for Fourth Liberty bonds which were called in October but were not exchanged for the bonds then offered.

More than $3,500,000 has been poured into the credit arteries of the United States in one way or another by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The monthly report of the corporation, which was organized February 2, 1932, to provide credit for banks, railroads, and other financial institutions, showed total cash advances of $2,549,919,894.

Total loans and advances authorized by the corporation since its inception amount to $4,254,453,348, of which $214,469,467 was withdrawn or cancelled, with $1,014,632,038 remaining at the disposal of the borrowers. Repayments have totaled $998,844,212.

STATE ROLPH SHOULD RESIGN

Group of Californians Indignant at Action of Governor on San Jose Lynchings

Associated Press

Berkeley, Calif., Dec. 4.—A call to the people of California to demand the resignation of Governor James Rolph for his expression condoning the lynching of Thomas H. Thurmond and John M. Holmes was issued here Saturday by a group of University of California professors and civic leaders.

"California stands disgraced by its governor, a self-proclaimed party to the lynching," said the statement issued by the group. "It can wipe out the blot on its fair name only by disclaiming the governor's voice as the voice of the people."

"We ask that all citizens of California, acting through their organizations and as individuals, demand his resignation."

The statement bore the signatures of Prof. and Mrs. Guy Montgomery, Prof. and Mrs. Henry Francis Grady, Prof. George T. Tolson, head of the Faculty of Religion; Prof. Paul Cadman of the economics department; Rev. L. J. O'Hara of Newman Hall, Roman Catholic institution at the university, and several others.

SMART MUSIC AT DOMINION

Joan Blondell and Ruby Keeler Have Leading Roles in "Footlight Parade"

More than a score of the 250 beautiful chorus girls appearing in the unique dance and underwater numbers of the Warner Brothers' musical picture, "Footlight Parade," which is being shown at the Dominion Theatre to-day, were selected from the campuses of several universities.

Buddy Berkeley, who staged the numbers for "42 Street" and "Gold Diggers of 1933," decided when he came to selecting girls for "Footlight Parade" that he wanted some new faces and different types of chorus girls. He decided to try college girls. Consequently he visited the University of California at Los Angeles, University of Southern California, Pomona, Occidental and Redlands in search of screen beauty.

He walked about the campuses, visited the libraries and study rooms spotting a girl here and there that he thought might do.

One of the most promising he found was Miss Dee Niece Belton, a Zeta Tau Alpha sorority girl who was not only beautiful but one of the leaders in both class work and extra-curricula activities.

"Footlight Parade," a romance of back stage life, carries an all star cast headed by James Gagney, Joan Blondell, Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell, Frank McHugh, Ruth Donnelly, Hugh Herbert and Claude Rains. It was directed by Lloyd Bacon.

STAGE GROUP COMING HERE

Henry Santrey and His Soldiers of Fortune Will Appear at Capitol Theatre

Here is good news for lovers of good music and ideal stage entertainment. Henry Santrey and His Soldiers of Fortune are booked to the Capitol Theatre for six days commencing December 5. Mr. Santrey and his world renowned band are assisted by a group of well-known artists of Broadway musicals and the variety stage. Heading this group is Estelle Fratus, a discovery of Mr. Santrey's while playing an engagement in Sydney, Australia.

Miss Fratus, on her arrival in America was starred in East Carroll's Varieties following which she joined Mr. Santrey's revue. She is a brilliant dancer and comedienne. Edith Rogers "The Musical Beauty" does a dance turn and her violin is heard to good effect. Loretta Grey, "Miss Personality" presents a variety of taps. The Marsh Sisters are dancers supreme; the four Duxie Brothers new Paris stars; the greatest rival to the Mills Brothers; Williams and Walker come from that hot spot in Harlem, "Connie's Inn."

Joe Richard Morgan is three feet of fancy stepping and Moe McLean offers a very fine singing voice. These specialty numbers are interspersed with the excellent music provided by Henry Santrey and his fifteen Soldiers of Fortune and altogether it provides an hour of dazzling entertainment presented at top speed.

Greta Garbo At Columbia

Greta Garbo, Joseph von Sternberg and Marlene Dietrich were the first three persons to view "The Song of Songs," Miss Dietrich's new Paramount film, produced by Rouben Mamoulian, now at the Columbia Theatre.

Miss Garbo, seeking to enlist the services of Rouben Mamoulian, its director, for her new picture, saw "The Song of Songs" in the projection room of the Paramount studio and gave it the highest praise. So did von Sternberg, who has directed Miss Dietrich in all her previous pictures. Miss Dietrich, it is said, considers it her finest effort.

Also being shown is "The Maid of the Mountains" and the Billy Symphonies "Three Little Pigs" featuring the famous tune "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf."

CAPITOL THEATRE
Conrad Veidt, who plays the part of the German Commandant in "I Was a Spy" now showing at the Capitol Theatre, has appeared in nearly every great German film from "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" to "Congress Dances" and "P.P.I."

He is famous on the stage as on the screen. He was in "Rome Express" and plays the title role in "The Wandering Jew."

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE
Frederic S. Foster, who plays the leading masculine role opposite Barbara Stanwyck in the Warner Brothers picture, "Ladies They Talk About," now at the Playhouse Theatre, is saying:

TO CONSIDER
RESOLUTIONS*Chamber of Commerce Directors Name Special Legislative Committee

Appointment of a special legislative committee to consider two resolutions, one from the Real Estate Board of Victoria seeking the re-establishment in full of provincial grants to municipalities, and another from the Cowichan Fish and Game Association, backing the work of the present Fish and Game Commission, was ordered by directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon to-day. The committee will go fully into the resolutions and report back at the next meeting of the directors.

The Real Estate Board's document spoke of the increasing tax on land caused by costs of unemployment legislation. It censured the curtailment of government grants and asked they be returned to their former status. It also sought the creation of a department of municipalities, as well as a more equitable distribution of the costs of education. The Cowichan Game and Fish Association endorsed the government's policy in leaving the framing of legislation regarding fish and game in the hands of a commission instead of putting it into the hands of the Provincial Police. It strongly supported the work of the existing commission and the leader of that body.

Moore and Whittington's suit for $1,100 against George E. Lowe as executor of the estate of Joseph Derwent Brown, and John Valdemar Johnson, involving the right to place a memorial on the monument to the late General Sir Arthur Currie, was argued before Judge Lampman. With H. W. Davey as counsel for Moore and Whittington and Norman W. Whitaker conducting the defence, the case was before the court during two days last week.

At a dinner meeting held in the Hotel Georgia, Vancouver, the B.C. Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion made a presentation to Past President T. A. Barnard. In presenting a gold watch on behalf of the executive, Colonel W. V. Foster, D.C.O., commented upon the excellent services rendered to the veterans in British Columbia and Canada by Mr. Barnard. During his two years of office as provincial president, times had been difficult, but the legion had weathered the storm very well indeed. Mr. Barnard, in replying, remarked upon the present pension situation and urged aggressive action to protect the interests of veterans and their dependents.

International
Work Sketched*Charles E. Anstie Tells Local Gyros of International Leaders' Activities

"Gyro is facing her problems with confidence, born of a realization of his colorful background, a record of service to communities and to mankind, friendship within Gyro, and perhaps the promulgation of friendship between states, provinces and nations," declared Charles E. Anstie, Vancouver, president of Gyro International, addressing the local club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

The president brought greetings to the club from the Vancouver club and the international executive.

He told of the celebration at the district convention of the coming of age of Gyro. There were now seventy-four clubs in the organization with a membership of 2,300. There were also eighteen prospective clubs, ten of which he felt he could safely predict would be in Gyro within the next twelve months.

He felt that the programme of the board of governors could be accomplished economically without injuring the status of Gyro. He dealt with economies which the international officers had effected this year, among which was the cancellation of the international convention and replacing it with an international executive meeting at Milwaukee.

He explained that under instruction from the board of governors, he had appointed three special committees this year to deal with the scope of Gyro, international objectives and organization.

He sketched an optimistic note when speaking of present conditions in Gyro, stating there was a revival of interest among the older members.

Mr. Anstie said, "and is now financially sound with clubs being able to carry out their objectives." He referred particularly to one club which had shrunk to fifteen members and recently he had been told by its president that the membership was now fifty-five.

The older members, he continued, owed it to the organization to build it up by obtaining new members, or else they had no place in Gyro. He believed men to-day needed the inspiration which Gyro offered, and it behooved the membership to place into office men who realized the true spirit and meaning of the organization.

"Our objective," Gyro means friendship and we have it within ourselves to bring this into reality or make it an idle phrase," he concluded.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Election in the Victoria riding for Boys' Parliament set an example to older voters of the city at the polling which took place at the Y.M.C.A. building Saturday afternoon for returning officer Vivian Shoemaker reports only one spoiled ballot out of over 230 votes cast.

Results of the ballot were close, there being only some twenty votes between the first of the five candidates for the four local seats and the last, who missed election only by one vote.

The four members of the Y.M.C.A. United, Francis Norton, Oak Bay United, and Robert Watt, Centennial United. The fifth candidate on the list was Arthur Fuller of Metropolitan United Church.

The session opened at the Parliament Building with full ceremony on the evening of December 27, and continues until December 30.

The returning officer wishes to announce his thanks to Charles McLeod, who assisted him with the returns, and conducted the actual poll.

The Junior Leaders' Corps, and the Junior Boys' Swimming Club had a successful combined meeting on Saturday afternoon, in the course of which Lew Rush, six-day cycle rider gave a talk on the technique and inside secrets of the race.

Lew Rush will deliver a similar address to the Q'ad Club at their weekly meeting to-morrow evening, at which Jack Allison will hold their chair. The club will also be entertained by a musical, led by Miss Marion Hargrave.

The Infidels Club will this evening address to the Q'ad Club at their weekly meeting to-morrow evening, at which Jack Allison will hold their chair. The club will also be entertained by a musical, led by Miss Marion Hargrave.

MAYOR SPEAKS
TO MINISTERS*Humane Angle of Unemployment Relief Stressed to Ministerial Association

In addressing the Victoria Ministerial Association this morning on "Unemployment Relief," Mayor David Leeming stressed the fact that the city was more concerned with the actual amount of food and clothing needed than with the dollars and cents of the situation. The latter factor, he explained, was necessarily an important one, but the city always considered the humane angle. "The mayor was accompanied by E. S. Cunningham, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., who also spoke briefly.

Reference was made by the mayor to the extra contribution which the city gives for relief. This allowance is in addition to the relief provided by the government and the whole cost is born by the city.

Rev. F. Conley, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association, occupied the chair. Tentative arrangements for the Universal Week of Prayer, to be held from January 7 to 14, were drawn up.

WIDER CUSTOMS
POWERS SOUGHT*Chamber Directors Endorse Move For Greater Discretionary Powers in B.C.

Extension of the powers of high provincial customs officials to allow them, or one of them, greater discretionary powers was advocated by directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon in the chamber to-day. The action was taken following the reception of a letter from the Importers' Association of British Columbia advocating the creation of a deputy-commissioner of customs to settle questions on goods imported into British Columbia.

"Endorsement of the appointment of a new official was not considered wise, since it was felt such a course would lead to the establishment of new departments in all the provinces of Canada. Recognizing, however, the need for some person who could pass judgment on questions of 'doubtful' merchandise, the chamber passed the resolution seeking wider powers for the head of customs in the province. "The letter to the chamber stated all lower cases on the Inner Harbor fore-shore by the company's super-service station. Word to this effect was given by W. T. Straith in reporting an interview with the member.

The move has been launched to assist the oil company in setting up good landing facilities in the harbor and generally improving the marine approach in the northwest corner of the harbor. Start on the work was prevented when the Federal Government stated the lease on the property would be $1,500 a year. The company was prepared to take up the work if that figure were reduced to $150 a year, it was reported.

Mrs. T. Hardy and her sister, Miss May Hick, were joint hostesses at a delightful kitchen shower at the former's home in honor of Miss Anne Hook, whose marriage will take place on December 9. Pink and mauve chrysanthemums were used in the decoration of the rooms. The gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a basket prettily decorated in pink and mauve crepe paper. Pink tapers in silver holders illuminated the supper table, centred with a silver flower basket with mauve chrysanthemums. Music and a competition were enjoyed by the guests, prizes being won by Mrs. W. C. Cooper and Miss Kathleen Allison. The invited guests were: Mesdames W. G. Hook, S. Hook, W. J. Hook, W. C. Gunners Whitewash Oarsmen To Capture Rugby League Lead

Score 9 to 0 Victory Over Last Year's City Champions in Feature Game

SCOTS WALLOP OAK BAY TEAM

Fifth Brigade Senior A boys, who would rather play rugby than eat, sprang their prophesied surprise on Saturday and walked off the field at Oak Bay Park with a 9 to 0 victory over the previously undefeated James Bay Athletic Association, city champions last season. As they proved conclusively their merit in the fixture, they maintained their own unbeaten record, took first place in the league standing and kept their line still unscathed.

At the Navy grounds the Scottish team over the Oak Bay Wanderers to stride into third berth in the standings with a 12 to 0 verdict.

In the senior B division, J.B.A.A. walked through the Tummies to win 9 to 0 at Work Point and the Garrison held a field day to pile up a 21 to 0 whitewash over the Navy at the Canoe grounds.

Victoria College bounced the J.B.A.A. 23 to 10 at the High School and the Scots and the Wanderers played to a six-all draw at Oak Bay B pitch in the intermediate division.

DESERVED WIN

The Gunners played like a machine to gain their decision over the Bays in the major encounter. In all departments they showed a distinct edge over the rowing clubbers, who fielded a team of but fourteen men, with some of their stars missing.

The oarsmen attacked early in the game and Osher was forced out on a wing run at the Brigade's twenty-five line. A free kick shortly after to the Gunners' twenty-five failed to bring any count for the Bays when Dick George's attempt for goal fell short. Smart kicking by McInnes and Stipe and good running by the Gunners' backfield sent play into the rowing club territory for several minutes. Play swung from one end to the other with both teams showing speed on three-quarter runs and good kicking ability.

McInnes just missed a good try from the J.B.A.A. thirty-five when his goal attempt from Godwin's offside fell short. He was given another chance when the Bays charged but failed to make it count.

On a sustained attack the Fifth hemmed the oarsmen in their own end. Sid Gaunt drove away a good chance to score when he passed wild on a promising backfield movement.

FIRST TRY
Taking a loose ball in his own ground, Stipe started a pretty Gunners' rush with a kick deep into the Bays' ground. Fleming went down the wing to take the ball and passed inside to Engleson, who threw to Alec Gaunt. Gaunt was forced out at the five-yard line. De Blaquiere gathered the ball when the teams cracked from a line out and lunged over for the first try thirty-five minutes from the start. The kick failed.

Rowe all but scored during the half, plunging through two tacklers to go over the line on his back. When he rolled over to put the ball down, his feet went out of touch and the attempt was wasted.

The Gunners pressed following the interval, but the Bays blocked perfectly to avoid a score.

On a good rush, Lemm gathered a loose ball in front of the Gunners' posts and forced a five-yard scrum. Don Stewart tried for a field goal when the ball came out, but his attempt went wide.

Young Ken Fleming started the Brigade off on another good attack, running down the wing and kicking to the corner.

OVER ON BLIND SIDE

Wally Stipe secured the ball from a scrum and ran around the blind-side to slip over at the flag for the Gunners' second try. Again the kick failed.

The rowing club fought all out in an effort to break through, but could not penetrate the stubborn Gunners' defence.

Fleming started another pretty attack, running down the wing from his own ground to the Bays' twenty-five, where he passed to Rowe. Rowe raced over at the corner, circled and put the ball down between the posts for the last try of the day. McInnes' kick was charged down.

Fighting drives by both squads were held out as the game closed.

J. B. Ackland refereed.

WANDERERS BLANKED AGAIN

Just one more time the Wanderers went on to the field and came off muddy but whitewashed in the other senior A fixture.

Beckett nearly scored for the Scots as the game opened, but was hauled down before he could get across after a good run.

Symons made an effort for a drop goal when the Wanderers pressed, but his attempt went wide.

Marling secured the scoring for the Scots, booting over a penalty kick awarded against the Wanderers for passing off the ground.

Beckett, playing a smart game for the Highlanders, went over for the first try early in the second half at the end of a good run. The kick failed.

Locke prevented what looked to be a certain try when he grazed Robson on the line after the Scottish half had dodged his way through the Oak Bay team.

Sockett secured from the line-out immediately after and plunged over to raise the Highlanders' margin to 9 to 0.

Jack Horne got across for the final tally at the end of a good three quarter run and again the kick for extra points was unsuccessful.

The Wanderers' three turned in a very fair performance, but the Highlanders' forwards completely dominated their scrum.

Ley handled the whistle, SENIOR B GAMES

A strong defence and two opportunistic tries and a penalty goal gave the Bays senior B squad its 9 to 0 win over the hard-fighting Tummies. Armstrong put over the Rowing Club's kick and Carmichael scored two unconverted tries.

Taking a 6 to 0 lead in the first half, on Featherston's penalty kick and Galbraith's try, the Garrison kept piling up its margin over the Navy to finish at the long end of a 21 to 0 score when Pocock, Galbraith and Polinsky went over for tries and Featherston kicked conversions in the second half in the other senior B game.

Two tries each by Ferguson, Farquhar and Sanders and one by Moloney, together with a conversion by Pearce gave Victoria College its intermediate victory over the Bays. Fisher and Drummond scored for the Rowing Club and both tries were converted. The Oarsmen played all through the game with thirteen men, while College lost two from injuries before the second half.

Oak Bay Wanderers came from behind in a final-stage rally to effect two Canadian Scottish tries scored by Armour and D. Anderson with a touchdown by Pangman and a penalty goal kicked by R. McConnan. As a result the squads finished in a 6 to 6 draw.

Crowds Featured Saturday's Games

London, Dec. 4. — Big crowds turned out for Saturday's English Football League engagements, a total of 90,000 watching Arsenal and Tottenham-Hotspurs in their respective matches. Arsenal, the league champions who got back into first place a week ago for the first time this season, defeated Liverpool, 2 to 1, while the Spurs were beaten, 2 to 0, by Manchester City. The net result was to send Arsenal into a three-point lead over the Spurs.

A crowd of 50,000 jammed into Highbury Park to see the league champions consolidate their leadership. After ten minutes of most exciting play Bastin the Gunners' veteran international gave a nice centre which Hulse gathered in and scored with. Liverpool replied strongly and English equalized heading the ball into the Arsenal net. Dunne, however, put the Gunners back

Wheat Up Fraction As Outside Markets Show Firmness

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Dec. 4.—Firmness in outside markets, moderate Canadian export business and absence of aggressive selling, gave wheat futures prices a fractional boost on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. Closing quotations showed gains of 1/2 to 3/4 of a cent, as compared with the previous close.

Values held close to the high points of the day, but in the closing stages moderate fractions were pared from the advance as a little selling trickled into the pit. December wheat finished at 68 1/2, May at 62 1/2 and July at 64 1/2 cents.

Lightness of offerings played a large part in the advance. Outside markets displayed a firm tendency, and would-be sellers of futures were not encouraged. Buying power was supplied mostly by export interests and seaboard houses.

Foreign sales were estimated at about 500,000 bushels. Trade was rather drab throughout the session. Chicago prices hovered around the previous close, while Buenos Aires values at noon were unchanged. Liverpool quotations strengthened in the late stages and closed 1/2 to 1 higher.

With navigation on the Great Lakes drawing to a close, little interest was evident in cash grain operations. Coarse grains were neglected, and prices generally followed the fractional uptick in wheat.

LOW TURNOVER AT MONTREAL

Canadian Press
Montreal, Dec. 4.—Security values moved with a narrow range as demands continued at a low ebb on the Montreal Stock Exchange to-day. Turnover contracted steadily from the open.

Bank Canadian Nationale gained five points at 145, while Royal Bank five points at 132 1/2. National Breweries recorded an advance of 1/4 at 24 1/2, while Hollinger moved to a new high of 11 1/2 up 25c.

The alcohol was about the same as last week's closing levels.

MINE MARKET ENDS WELL-UP

Canadian Press
Toronto, Dec. 4.—A drab mining market, finally, lived up to close around the day's best price level. General tone of the golds was firm with Hollinger outstanding in volume.

Senior gold issues trailed a plodding New York market. McIntyre weakened $1 to 39.50. Teck-Hughes closed unchanged at 5.60; Dome up 25 at 39.50. Lake Shore unchanged at 42.25. Hollinger gained 15 to 11.60. Pioneer down 10 to 9.10 and Bralorne 5 to 9.10.

Nickel at 21.15 was off 15 cents and Noranda unchanged at 8.44. Reno slipped off to 83 for a loss of 8 cents. Macassa dropped 3, Siscoe 2. Granada a point or so and Howey 2.

INDUSTRIALS REMAIN SAME

Canadian Press
Toronto, Dec. 4.—Industrial shares turned over in fair volume to-day on the Toronto Exchange with prices little changed from the previous close. Walkers common was unchanged at 43 1/2. Industrial Alcohol off 1/4 at 17. Distillers-Segram down 1/4 at 22 1/2. Losses were slightly in the majority at the last gun.

Beer stocks were sharply irregular. The Brewing Corporation issues advancing, while Canada Brew down 1/4 on rumor the dividend will be passed. Brewers and Distillers dropped an early gain, closing at 2.25.

Canadian Oils lost 1/4 to 11 1/4, and gains of 1/2 to 1 1/4 appeared in Imperial and International Petroleum. International Nickel sagged 30c to 821. Brazilian 1/2, and C.P.R. 1/4 to 12 1/2, and Ford "A" advanced 1/4 to 14. Smelters closed a fraction higher. Bood shares were lethargic.

Imperial and Royal Banks were up two points each.

Extremely Narrow And Dull Session On Wall Street To-day

Associated Press
New York, Dec. 4.—In a market the principal feature of which was its dullness, stocks followed an extremely narrow range to-day and neither the bulls nor the bears ventured very far outside the safety zones. It was one of the slowest sessions since last spring. Transfers approximated only 650,000 shares. The close was fairly steady.

BOND MARKET IS IRREGULAR

Associated Press
New York, Dec. 4.—Under the same restricted volume of trading that was recorded last week, the bond market to-day displayed a narrowly irregular tone.

Transfers in U.S. Governments were in early dealings. Higher prices were paid for a fair number of corporate issues, but the market was generally weak in certain of the foreign loans.

French 7s dropped nearly 4 points, while the 7 1/2s of 2-German issues, particularly the Daves and Young Loan, were heavy. British 5s held fairly steady despite the loss in sterling exchange.

COL. R. O. WHEATLEY KILLED IN CRASH

Former Secretary to Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Killed in Montreal

Montreal, Dec. 4.—Lieut.-Colonel Ronald Owen Wheatley, M.C., former officer commanding the Ottawa Highlanders and adjutant of the Canadian Infantry in 1928, formerly of Winnipeg, died yesterday following a collision between his automobile and a street car. He was forty-seven years old.

Col. Wheatley had a distinguished military career. After the war he was for some years private secretary to Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King while Mr. King was Premier. Col. Wheatley then entered the advertising field in Montreal. At the time of his death he was director and general manager of the firm of Vickers & Benson.

Can Marriage Between Socially Prominent Man and Middle-class Girl Be Happy?—Modern Husband and Wife Face Same Old Problems

DEAR MISS DIX—Do you think the marriage of two people of different social positions will result in unhappiness and failure? If the man's family is socially prominent and the girl comes from the middle class, would the difference be too great for a successful adjustment, even though the girl is refined?

ANSWER—There are no class barriers in this country that any even fairly nimble-witted girl cannot hurdle. In fact, we see it done every day. Poor girls and girls of humble parentage marry into aristocratic families and live happily ever afterward, turning up their noses at the lower classes. For there are no such snobs as those who have once been snubbed.

Why, half of the haughtiest ladies you ever meet came from "the other side of the tracks," or "Hogan's alley," and even as I write I am thinking of a girl I once knew who began life in the backroom of a saloon and whose first job was as an errand girl, and who since has married two millionaires and is now a shining social light in London and Paris.

No women in the world are so adaptable as American women. Summon them out of the parlor and by the time they roll down their sleeves and dust the flour off their hands and powder their noses they are ready to fill any position, however exalted, that their husbands can give them.

The only class distinctions that are worth considering are the mental and spiritual ones, because there is no way to bridge them or to change them. A girl of coarse fiber, one whose taste runs to vulgar and common things, might well hesitate to marry a man of very delicate and refined temperament because he would bore her to tears and she would despise him as being effeminate and finicky, while everything she did and said would grate upon his sensibilities.

So, too, a girl of little mentality and one who is ignorant and uneducated would be foolish to marry a man of the intellectual class because they would have nothing in common. They would never be able to adjust themselves to each other and they would inevitably grow tired of each other.

But the girl who is born lady, as the phrase goes, who is naturally refined in her thoughts and tastes and who has a clever mind need not hesitate to marry the man who is her social superior because it is so easy for her to climb from her level to his.

Officially he lifts her to it by the magic of the wedding ring, since a wife takes her husband's status and humble Griselda becomes the queen, and the housemaid Mrs. Senator or Mrs. Governor or Mrs. Millionbucks, as the case may be, as soon as the wedding ceremony is over. So, then, all that the girl of lowly origin has to do after she marries what the newspapers call "socialite" is to consolidate her position by acquiring the passwords and learning the grip of the new lodge she has joined.

But there is one thing that I advise the girl to do who is contemplating ing some social climbing, and that is to prepare herself for the ordeal by putting herself under the tutelage of some woman who knows the road and who will teach her how to avoid the dangers and pitfalls into which she may stumble, and which are so often fatal to the novice.

Thereby will she save herself from many a bruise and keep her husband from regretting his choice of her as a companion on the journey of life.

DEAR MISS DIX—My husband, unlike most men, insists upon my going out in the evenings without him to enjoy myself, but I do not know where to go or what to do. I do office work in the day and in the evenings I love staying at home, cooking, reading, sewing or having friends in occasionally for dinner or cards, and that is about the limit of my amusements. My husband enjoys going out alone two or three evenings a week and I like him to do so, but when he comes home and finds that I have stayed home, no matter how much I have enjoyed it, he gets cross and says that he is afraid we will have trouble in the years to come because of my not going anywhere, and he is always telling people that I will not go anywhere unless he is along. I do not want him to feel that way, or that I am lonesome when he is out, or that he should not leave me. Above all, I do not want him to ask me to accompany him to places when he would rather go without me. Any help? G. M. B.

ANSWER—Not unless you can make your husband see that tastes differ and that you get just as much pleasure out of staying at home as he does out of stepping out, and it is just as much fun to you to make a cake as it is for him to shake up a cocktail.

You are broad enough to let him divert himself in his own way and according to his own idea of pleasure, and he should certainly accord you the same privilege. Of course, it is a pity when husbands and wives do not enjoy the same things and cannot play together, but nothing is gained when one tries to force his or her amusements on the other, nor does it make for the happiness of either when one martyrs himself or herself to the other's pleasures.

PROPER CARE OF TEETH FENDS OFF PYORRHEA

Disease Which Takes Heavy Toll Usually Can Be Charged to Neglect; Nearly All Cases Avoidable

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Neglect of teeth and gums, resulting in pyorrhea, causes 75 per cent of the loss of teeth that occurs among persons over thirty-five years of age, observation indicates. Teeth could be saved almost every case if proper treatment were undertaken in time, competent dentists aver.

Diseases of the gums come on insidiously. They are likely to progress to an advanced stage before the person affected realizes that anything is seriously wrong.

The ordinary condition of the gums surrounding the teeth is one of firmness, with a good pink coloring. The onset of infection is marked by a slight reddening or thickening of the margins of the gums next to the teeth.

In this condition the gums bleed freely under pressure or by use of the toothbrush. Moreover, the color changes from pink to bluish-red.

Among the factors likely to lead to pyorrhea are the following: First, neglect of teeth and gums, which permits germs in large numbers to develop in the space between the gum and the teeth.

Second, irregularities of the teeth. These cause food to collect around the irregular places and in this debris the germs will grow. Ordinarily the mouth has a self-cleaning action, but when there are crevices which the gums, cheeks, and tongue do not control, this does not occur.

Third, tartar forms around the necks of the teeth and, unless removed, causes irritation of the margin of the gums.

Fourth, a toothbrush that is too stiff or hard injures the gums and forces them away from the teeth. When the dentist examines the mouth in such a case, he finds the condition worse in the left upper jaw with right-handed people and in the right lower jaw with left-handed people.

A fifth cause is the use of artificial plates, bridges, and other dentures which are not kept clean or which permit collection of food and debris around the teeth.

One of the leading dental surgeons of England emphasizes also as causative factors of inflammation of the gums the use of a diet which is too soft and the use of a diet which is deficient in vitamins A, C and D, a deficiency of which commonly is related to disturbances of teeth and gums.

Violin Inspired Duke of Wellington

In fact, the oldest London firm of violin makers, established since 1767, has been obliged to close its doors owing to the dearth of violin students has inspired a correspondent of The Daily Telegraph to reveal a phase in the life of the first Duke of Wellington which is believed to figure in no one of his biographies—that the "Iron Duke," like Italy's Duce, sought relaxation by playing the fiddle.

As the conclusion of a letter in which the writer deplores the passing of the vogue of violin music and makes suggestions for its revival, is found this casual paragraph:

"The present headmaster of Wellington College, at the end of a school orchestral concert, asked me to recruit to the 'Purveyors' the study of the violin. In that way, he said, they would follow the example of the founder of the school, the old Duke of Wellington, who acknowledged in the same hall that he delighted in the violin had done much to advance him in his after career."

SHIP STILL ICE-BOUND

St. Paul Island, Bering Sea, Dec. 4.—A hundred miles north of the Arctic Circle in the bleak ice of the east Siberian Sea, the ice-locked Soviet ship Chelivsk, and its human cargo of sixty-eight to-day faced another "heavy storm."

Stranded by storm three days ago in their efforts to abandon ship and cross the ice to shore, the party of Russian scientists prepared to weather a second storm, their wireless operator messaged.

The message, received by the naval radio operator here, described their plight as "ok." It said: "Still drifting in ice and still open but heavy storm from north started. Position 68 N., 172 W."

Man Removed From Liner

Vancouver, Dec. 4.—Just prior to her departure for the Orient, Saturday morning the Ss. Empress of Canada, Sheriff W. B. Cochrane removed from the ship under a writ of capias Jang Ben Tong. The latter was cited as defendant to a County Court action of Jang Park Jong, who claimed $400 for wages. Defendant, it was stated, conducted the Canton grocery store here. The action was obtained from Judge Harper by C. L. McAlpine, counsel for plaintiff. Following the arrest, defendant is reported to have obtained his release by furnishing cash bail to the amount of the claim.

LAST STEAMER LEAVES RIVER

Quebec, Dec. 4.—Latest liner departure in the history of passenger navigation on the St. Lawrence, the steamer Aurania put out from Quebec Saturday bound for Havre and London. The Aurania was the last liner to sail on the St. Lawrence route this year. She carried nearly 500 passengers and 5,000 tons of freight.

TRAIN WRECK KILLS FOUR

Spokane, Dec. 4.—Four were killed and two injured when a Great Northern freight train crashed into a rock slide at Milan, Wash., twenty-four miles north of here, yesterday evening.

Those who lost their lives were: W. J. Barrett, engineer; William Kreuger, fireman; Leonard Hargrove, brakeman; and J. T. Towhey, brakeman.

The injured: E. W. Hossall, conductor, and F. G. Cook, brakeman.

All were of Hilliard, Spokane suburb. The men killed were riding in the cab of the huge locomotive, pulling a train of ninety-seven cars. Locomotive and tender were derailed and toppled over.

A half-dozen cars in the middle of the train were derailed and six more directly behind those first to leave the track piled up on top of the forward ones.

The wreck is reported by officials to be one of the worst in years, and traffic may be tied up forty-eight hours.

PLANES BUSY IN THE NORTH

Machinery Flying Between Arctic Post With Mails, Supplies and Passengers

Canadian Press
McMurray, Alta., Dec. 4.—Aviation in the north, tied up for six weeks, has suddenly taken to activity. All Canadian Airways Ltd. aircraft stationed at the McMurray airport are now winging their ways to various points in the north.

Pilot Walter Gilbert, with Engineer Lew Parmenter, despite the fact a heavy snowstorm was raging, made a return flight to Fort Smith. They left McMurray Saturday with a capacity load of mail and express, the first aerial winter mail to the north, returning again yesterday with the first winter mail from the north and a full complement of passengers.

Pilot Gilbert, after refueling his ship, headed again for Fort Smith where many more passengers are awaiting transportation south.

Pilot W. R. "Wop" May with Engineer Rudy Heuss returned from their eastern flight Saturday with three passengers and took off again yesterday with a capacity load of northern mail and express.

Pilot Supt. C. H. Punch Dickins, flying the Lockheed Vega, left at the McMurray airport from Edmonton at noon yesterday and will take off to-day on a mercy flight to Fond Du Lac where a sick man, Fred Shagory, awaits transportation to Edmonton. Supt. Dickins expects to proceed to Edmonton with a load of northern passengers on his return from Fond Du Lac.
